

Russians Seem Ready To Relax World Tensions

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. George (D-Ga.) said today Russian leaders appear ready to discuss relaxation of world tensions at a top-level conference without raising annoying "collateral" issues.

George's comment in an interview was similar to a cautious note of optimism voiced by Secretary of State Dulles, who reports to the nation tonight on his talks in Europe with free world and Soviet diplomats.

On TV At 5 P. M.
The half-hour program will be carried live (5 p.m. CST) by the ABC, CBS, Du Mont and NBC television networks. There will be delayed rebroadcasts by radio (ABC 6 p.m., MBS 8:30 p.m., CBS and NBC 9:30 p.m.)

Arriving Monday from Europe, Dulles told newsmen a prospective meeting among Eisenhower and the Prime Ministers of Russia, Britain and France was arranged "under conditions which will, I believe, hold some promise of constructive accomplishment."

George, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said he has been told that in preliminary talks the Russians "seemed to have agreed to go along" on a genuine effort to ease East-West frictions.

Senator Suspicious
He indicated he was basing part of his optimism on the signing of the Austrian Peace Treaty. Pronouncing the treaty satisfactory, he predicted it would be ratified "as soon as it is submitted to the Senate."

Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) said in Cleveland he thinks the Russians are going to proceed by plan to break up the Western European defense alliance if they can.

Knowland, the Senate Republican leader, said he expects the Russians to attempt to "neutralize" Yugoslavia, Germany, Norway and Denmark.

Boy, 7, Kidnaped At Astoria, Ore.

ASTORIA, Ore. (AP)—A boy missing since Sunday was found safe today and a young AWOL soldier with an arrest record as a child molester was jailed.

The boy, 7-year-old Tommy Woodard, was found by three searchers as he walked across a field this morning. He said he had been turned loose by a man who had held him.

The soldier, identified by state police as Pvt. William E. Kent of Ft. Campbell, Ky., surrendered a short time later at his pup tent, pitched near the Nehalem River some 25 miles southeast of here.

Armand Nicholson, one of the men who found Tommy, said the boy was hungry but seemed to be feeling all right.

Pvt. Bob McDaniel of the state police, one of the men who brought Kent to jail here, said Kent told him he had been arrested five years ago at Portland as a child molester.

'In God We Trust'
To Go On Greenbacks

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Banking Committee has approved a bill to put the inscription, "In God We Trust," on all U.S. paper money.

The inscription now appears on all coins.

The bill sponsored by Rep. Bennett (D-Fla.) would provide that the inscription be added to paper money when new dies are cut. New dies are being planned now, Bennett said.

Chou Renews Offer To Deal With U.S. On Formosa Issue

TOKYO (AP)—Premier Chou En-lai of Red China today renewed his offer to negotiate with the United States on easing tension in the Formosa area but made plain that "the question of the so-called ceasefire does not arise."

The reason, he said, was that "there is no war between (Red) China and the United States."

Chou, who first made his offer April 23 at the Asian-African conference at Bandung, said his country would prefer to discuss the Formosan question through a 10-nation conference suggested three months ago by Soviet Russia, but said Red China would be willing to consider alternate proposals.

He charged, 3rd graf. 32.

He charged that the United States was delaying the talks by vague and evasive responses.

President Eisenhower said April 27 the United States would be glad to talk with the Chinese Communists on a Formosa cease-fire.

Britain asked Chou a week ago to pin-point where and when he would meet with the United States.

Chou renewed his offer in a report Friday to Red China's National Congress. Peiping radio broadcast the text of his report today. Chou said:

"To ease the tension in the Taiwan Formosa area, the Chinese government is willing to sit down and enter into negotiations with the United States government."

Chou insisted that Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist government on Formosa must be excluded.

The Premier also:

Accused the United States of "intensifying its active preparation for new wars" and mentioned the May 10 battle between Chinese Red MIG jets and U.S. Sabre Jets off northwestern Korea.

Renewed his demand for a seat in the United Nations and charged that the United States had "manipulated" U.N. resolutions.

Congress To OK Free Polio Shots

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Hill (D-Ala.) said today there is "absolute no question" but that Congress would quickly approve President Eisenhower's request for 28 million dollars to pay for antipolio vaccine for children whose parents can't afford the shots.

Hill, chairman of the Senate Public Welfare Committee, said in an interview he expects Eisenhower's companion request for two million dollars for more inspectors to police vaccine output to go through as soon as Congress can get around to considering the matter.

Otherwise, Hill voiced reservations about the administration's new 11-point program for voluntary allocations and controls over distribution of the Salk polio vaccine. Secretary of Welfare Robert H. Taft outlined that program to the committee Monday after it had been approved by the President.

Hill said the program "very clearly" was not "detailed or definite."

Committee Democrats indicated by their questions and comments

at Monday's hearing that they are far from sold on the administration's plan to make sure, by voluntary methods, that supplies of the still-scarce vaccine get to the most susceptible age groups in sufficient quantities and that distribution is carried out equitably. There were some new Democratic charges of "bungling."

But Republican members of the committee defended the administration's handling of the problem and congratulated Mrs. Hobby for the job she has done.

Brilliant Youth Held In Murder

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP)—The 21-year-old son of a husband-wife team on the Harvard University faculty has been ordered held without bond on a murder charge in a shooting which he contends was an accident.

Richard Kluckhohn was bound over Monday for trial in Wake Superior Court. The next term starts June 6. His parents and fiancée attended a preliminary hearing.

Kluckhohn, described by police as a brilliant student who graduated at the University of Chicago when he was 18, is accused in the bizarre Friday-the-13th shooting of Miss Bernice Seawell, 43, a government worker of Arlington, Va.

Miss Seawell and a sister were standing at a downtown parking lot when a bullet struck and killed Miss Seawell. Police said the shot, fired from a German Luger pistol, came from the window of a nearby hotel.

Kluckhohn, a traveling representative of the Row Peterson Publishing Co., Evanston, Ill., was arrested 3½ hours later in Chapel Hill, some 30 miles distant, by Chapel Hill Patrolman G. R. Creel.

Creel quoted Kluckhohn as saying he was "dry firing" the pistol in his hotel room when it discharged.

Under cross-examination, Creel agreed that Kluckhohn said "he was testing the gun and did not know it was loaded."

Dr. and Mrs. Clyde Kay Mabey Kluckhohn sat near their son during the hearing. Also nearby was blonde Ellen Waldron, 21, of Chicago, his fiancée. They had planned to marry in June.

Retired Justice Owen J. Roberts Taken By Death

PHOENIXVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Owen J. Roberts, retired former associate justice of the U.S. Supreme Court, died today at his home. He was 80 last May 2, and had retired from the bench in 1945.

Roberts suffered a heart attack and died at 9:25 a.m. (CST). His widow and an only child, Mrs. Elizabeth Hamilton, were at his bedside.

The justice, named to the nation's highest court in 1930 by former President Herbert Hoover, had been ill for some time. Until last weekend he had been a patient in a Philadelphia hospital.

Friends quoted him as saying that if he was to die he preferred to be at home, at his estate in nearby Chester Springs, 30 miles west of Philadelphia.

While a Supreme Court justice, Roberts held a decidedly unusual position and it was frequently his vote that decided a case between the evenly-divided viewpoints of his eight colleagues.

Roberts' importance was spotlighted because the Supreme Court was called upon to decide the constitutionality of President Franklin D. Roosevelt's New Deal legislation in 27 instances.

He voted against all except two of the 13 new deal measures which the court passed upon prior to October 1936, but during Roosevelt's second term aligned himself with the liberals 14 times.

Roberts cast the deciding vote that ruled the Agriculture Adjustment Administration unconstitutional. And he also cast the deciding vote to uphold the constitutionality of the Wagner Labor Relations Act and the unemployment compensation provisions of the Social Security Act. Liberals called him a conservative; conservatives called him a liberal.

Tito Closes Two Catholic Schools

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—President Tito's Communist government has closed two Roman Catholic high schools in the big north Adriatic port of Rijeka (Fiume) after conviction of five staff members for "hostile activities" against the state.

The action was reported Monday night by Borba, official newspaper of the Yugoslav Communist party. It said the theological high school was closed for five years and the classical high school for three.

Borba said the order was issued after Josip Kaphs, prefect of the theological school, and four other defendants were sentenced to prison terms ranging from one to six years by the District Court of Rijeka. It said they had "slandered state authorities and propagated fascism."

The newspaper also charged that the Roman Catholic bishop of Rijeka, Ivan Pavlasic, tried to influence witnesses to testify falsely.

Postal Pay Raise Veto Predicted

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) predicted anew after a conference with President Eisenhower that the chief executive will veto the bill to increase the pay of about half a million postal workers by an average of 8.6 per cent.

Knowland, the Senate Republican leader, declined to say whether the President told him or indicated that a veto will be forthcoming.

"I predicted the other day that any bill over 7.6 per cent would not meet with presidential approval," Knowland said.

He declared he still is standing by that forecast.

In reply to a question, Knowland said the President probably will act on the bill "in the next day or two."

Mayor Defies Police, Pledges Wide-Open Vice For Galveston

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)—Galveston's mayor-elect, who takes office today, defied the City Commission and Texas Rangers, stood pat against the ministerial association and pledged a fight for his plan to throw the town wide open to gambling and prostitution.

Galveston, an island resort city, always has been known as a place where you could risk some money or visit a house of pleasure in defiance of the state's laws. But discretion has been the motto of the gamblers, and of the prostitutes too, after the red light district was abolished two years ago.

George Roy Clough, owner of radio station KLUF, pledged after his election that he'd open up gambling and re-establish the red light district.

Clough remained unmoved Monday after a three-hour session with Galveston Ministerial Assn. representatives.

Then he claimed in a speech over his radio station that he would have more powers as mayor than most people now believe. He denounced Police Commissioner Walter L. Johnston, outspoken against re-establishment of the red light district on famed Post

House Prepares To Approve 2,900,000 Military Reserve

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House today appeared ready to approve President Eisenhower's program designed to bring a fourfold increase in the nation's trained military reserve in 1960.

It scheduled debate starting today on a bill to carry out the program, which the President has described as a key part of his over-all plan to cut back the active military forces while placing increased reliance on air striking power and a ready pool of trained reserves.

Not UMT Setup

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the House Armed Services Committee has predicted passage without concerted opposition, although some attempts to revise the bill were anticipated. The Senate has not acted.

One feature of the bill would authorize a new six months' training program for a limited number of youths willing to accept long-term reserve duty. Some House members have denounced this plan as an entering wedge for universal military training, at which Congress has balked in the past, but Vinson contends "this is not a UMT plan and does not open the way for it."

The over-all aim of the program is to create a trained reserve force of 2,900,000 men in five years—a goal which would add an estimated billion dollars a year to the present 700-million-dollar annual budget for reserve activities.

Must Keep Up Drills
The measure would provide authority for:

1. Recall to 45 days active duty of any reservists who failed to keep up required weekly drills and summer encampments or equivalent duty. This provision covers draftees and volunteers for the regular services who are obliged to maintain training status for a total of five years on active and reserve duty.

2. Acceptance each year of between 100,000 and 250,000 volunteers between 17 and 19 years of age for six months' special training followed by 7½ years in the active reserves. These volunteers would cut 18 months from the time a draftee serves on active duty while adding this period to the active reserve obligation.

3. The recall to active duty by the President of up to a million reservists without consulting Congress if he declares a national emergency. This authority, traditionally held by the President, was withdrawn in 1952.

committee held over for further consideration a request to put a total of $10,267,000 into basic costs of the Michigan base.

Congress last year authorized $8,635,000 for the base. A controversy over its location has delayed work. Military officials say higher construction costs now push the total to the new figure.

The committee Monday tentatively eliminated $1,881,000 earmarked for operational and training facilities at the Traverse base. Committee officials said today this action is not necessarily final and the temporarily deleted project probably will be reconsidered.

A still unsettled dispute continues over whether to locate the Michigan field in Benzie County, the original site, near Cadillac or in Manistee County.

Sources close to the committee indicated the extra funds sought by the Air Force would be granted by the committee when the site is settled.

The committee veto on the extra money came during a secret session on the $2,354,000 Military Public Works Bill. The bulk of the Air Force's $703,390,000 domestic construction program for the next fiscal year was approved by the committee.

Vetoed by Committee
The initial appropriation was held up by the Appropriation Committee when it was learned the amount was granted by the last Congress to build the base at the Homestead site in Benzie County.

After the grant, the Armed Services Committee turned down the Homestead site. Then Air Force Secretary Harold E. Talbot picked Cadillac in Wexford County over a location in Kalkaska County near Traverse City.

Last March the committee vetoed the Cadillac site and the Traverse City site as being too near the International Music Camp at Interlochen.

Old Refrigerator Smothers Girl, 7

NEW YORK (AP)—A 4-year-old girl was found dead—apparently suffocated—in an unused refrigerator in the basement of her Bronx home Monday night.

The child, Maria Hernandez, had been missing 3½ hours when her mother Virginia found her body.

Police sought to determine whether the girl crawled into the refrigerator alone and the door closed on her, or whether she was locked in while playing with other children.

Canada Approves Sea Lamprey Ban

OTTAWA (AP)—The House of Commons' Committee on Marine and Fisheries has approved legislation aimed at eliminating sea lamprey from the Great Lakes.

The committee Monday approved without amendment a bill to set up a Great Lakes fishery commission with both Canadian and American sections. The bill now goes back to the commons for third reading.

It authorizes the commission, when established, to study and recommend steps to preserve valuable fish species for commercial fishing.

Measure May Be Snatched Out Of Committee

LANSING (AP)—Four young Republicans were confident they will make parliamentary history in the House today and rescue the trapped highway expansion program.

The four, members of the independent-minded "Young Turk" element, said they would try to discharge the House Roads and Bridges Committee from consideration of a Senate-approved "arterial" highway bill.

Peltz Is Target

"We've got the votes to do it," said Rep. Thomas M. Burns (R-Saginaw), a leader of the discharge movement. A simple majority—56 votes—is needed.

His confidence was echoed by Reps. Richard D. Smith (R-Bay City), John C. McCune (R-East Lansing) and Willard I. Bowerman (R-Lansing), other "Young Turks" who want to snatch the bill from the hands of the committee.

Not since 1911 has a committee been relieved of its jealously-guarded right to judge bills before their debate on the floor. A Senate committee was discharged that year; a House committee has never been discharged.

Target of the "Young Turks" rebellion is Rep. Emil Peltz (R-Ripps City), chairman of the roads and bridges committee and an unwavering opponent of the Senate's plan for improving highways.

Distribution Is Disputed
Peltz refuses to accept the Senate's plan for distributing a proposed one and one half cent gas tax increase. The upper chamber wants to give three quarters of the additional funds to the state for four-lane highways, leaving the rest for construction and improvement of city and county roads.

The present formula supported by Peltz and many rural lawmakers gives 44 per cent of highway funds to the state, 37 per cent to the counties and 19 per cent to the cities.

Lawmakers were optimistic about chances of passing the Senate-approved bill if the committee can be discharged.

Bullets Fatal To Texas Killer

GROESBECK, Tex. (AP)—N.J. Tynes, a crazed farmer who killed a sheriff, wounded a youth and held off 100 officers for five hours Sunday, died Monday night of wounds suffered before his capture.

Funeral services for Sheriff J. Harry Dunlap, 47, were held Monday. He was killed when he stepped from cover to attempt to reason with Tynes, 44, a bachelor farmer who was about to be committed again to a state mental hospital.

Tynes shot and seriously wounded Johnny Ray Bentley, 17, Saturday night as Bentley plowed a field near Tynes' home. Dunlap had attempted to question Tynes about the shooting.

Shelling By Reds Labeled Murder

MUNSAN, South Korea (AP)—The United Nations Command today labeled as "cold-blooded murder" the Communist shelling of South Korean fishermen May 10 off the coast of the Communist-held Haeju Peninsula.

The shelling killed six fishermen and wounded nine others. Fifteen are missing. Five boats were sunk and three are missing.

Visiting Mayor Is Honored By Service Clubs

Mayor L. D. Gibney of Montgomery, Mich., in Escanaba in observance of Michigan Week's "Exchange of Mayors Day," was honored here Monday noon at a joint meeting of the Escanaba Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs and in the evening at a ladies night meeting of the Escanaba Lions Club.

Escanaba City Manager A. V. Aronson introduced Mayor Gibney at the Rotary-Kiwanis luncheon at the Delta Hotel. Denis McGinn, Rotary Club president, welcomed the Kiwanians to the joint meeting, and the response was given by George Ruwitch, Kiwanis Club president.

"Montgomery is located in the southwest corner of Hillsdale County, and it has a population of 489," said Mayor Gibney. He described the community's industries and noted that the people of the area are in the majority employed in agriculture.

Worth Is Speaker
Michigan's champion horsepulling team, owned by the Fowler Brothers of Montgomery, has competed in past years in contests at the U. P. State Fair, said Mayor Gibney.

In Escanaba, Mayor Gibney was taken on a tour of the city's utilities, and with his wife and daughter visited places of interest in the community. Mayor Harlan Yelland, who had planned to go to Montgomery for the day, was unable to leave Escanaba because of prior commitments.

Jean Worth, editor of the Escanaba Daily Press, was principal speaker at the combined meeting of the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs. He came here recently from Menominee, where he was editor of the Menominee Herald-Leader.

Worth said that he was glad to have his future in Escanaba, that the community has a promising future which can be enlarged by the friendly cooperation of its people. Escanaba he found is a transportation center because of its location at the hub of the Upper Peninsula, rich in industry and ready for more, second in U. P. agriculture and with the means of being first; an unsurpassed U. P. convention and resort center, attractively housed, well governed and about to realize its aspiration to be the state capital in the Upper Peninsula.

Michigan Quiz
The newspaper's role in the community, he declared, is a vital one and he pledged the Press' continued devotion to the cause of wholesome progress. Newspapers, he said, have served the Peninsula for most of a century and continue to grow. They have, he said, like the peninsula, changed greatly with the years and a look backward reveals gains that promise more advances in the future. Worth read some articles from the old press of the Peninsula which have become quaint with the passage of time.

Don Trotter of the Rotary Club's program committee introduced the speaker.

One of the features of the program was a "Know Your Michigan" quiz, a series of 33 questions relating to the state, its people, its industries and its history. The correct answers to the quiz questions were read by George Ruwitch, who announced that the quiz for service clubs had been developed under the direction of Atty. William E. Anderson, Escanaba's Michigan Week chairman.

Among the guests at the meeting were Hugh Grow, Escanaba Chamber of Commerce secretary; Wesley Hansen, city councilman; Charles Burton of Gladstone; and Arne Olson and John Olson, representing the Gladstone Rotary Club in a member exchange project.

Of Michigan Week:

Harnischfeger Reports On Escanaba Operation

"We're glad to be in Michigan," reports Harnischfeger Corporation in a folder issued as a part of the local observance of Michigan Week.

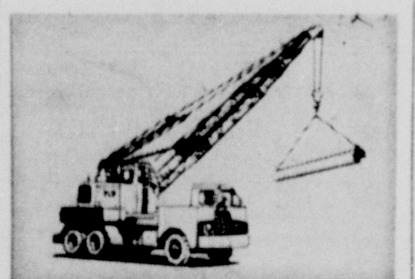

Directing attention to Harnischfeger Corporation's contribution to Michigan Week, John Boyle, Escanaba Chamber of Commerce president, told the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs in joint meeting Monday noon: "We are glad that Harnischfeger is in Michigan — and doubly glad that they are in Escanaba."

Harnischfeger Corporation, now employing more than 800 persons in Escanaba operations, issued a Michigan Week report as follows:

First Plant In 1947
"Michigan was new to Harnischfeger in 1946 when plans were initiated to establish a welder manufacturing plant in Escanaba. Similarly, Harnischfeger was new to many of the people it came in contact with in Michigan. We both had to get acquainted with each other. In retrospect, it is obvious we could not have started and have grown so rapidly as we have if we had not found a group of cooperative people eager to be trained into a team of skilled employees capable of adapting themselves to the materials, tools, and production methods required by a new industry to produce the finished product which bears a P&H trademark.

"Harnischfeger established its first plant in Michigan during the early months of 1947. A building on Stephenson Avenue in Escanaba was renovated and readied for the building of welding machines. On March 3, 1947 thirteen men were hired. Seven months later the first farm welder built by Harnischfeger in Escanaba was shipped to a customer. Since then the Welder Plant continued to grow until today when 150 employees build hundreds of AC and DC welding machines a month for P&H customers throughout the world.

"About one year after the first welding machine was built in Escanaba, Harnischfeger made plans to build a plant specifically designed for manufacturing small crawler-type power shovels and truck-type cranes. By 1949 a site along Danforth Road was selected and construction work began immediately. The first truck crane assembled in Escanaba was shipped to a customer on February 13, 1949. During January 1950 one year after the building was completed, 162 employees built and shipped five truck cranes and nineteen crawler-type shovels and one crane loader.

Community Service
"Production and employment increased continuously necessitating repeated investments in added buildings, machine tools, and other manufacturing facilities. To day, over 800 Harnischfeger employees in Escanaba work together as a team to build the welding machines and excavating equipment being shipped daily from Michigan to P&H customers.

"As the Escanaba Harnischfeger operations grew, its employee services and community activities increased simultaneously. A few of these activities and services include a Class A and Junior softball team; two bowling leagues of twelve five-man teams; an annual picnic; a medical department with complete first aid medical services by doctors who visit the plant daily, and nurses who are on duty during working hours.

"Harnischfeger is proud of its accomplishments in Escanaba. It believes that its employees and friends are equally proud of the important part they have played in this enterprise. And, we sincerely believe, we as a team can proudly say we are glad we live in Michigan."

CALDWELL, author of "The Korea Story" will address the banquet meeting of Group 1 of the Michigan Bankers Association convention in the House of Ludington Saturday evening May 21 on "What Should Be Our Program Toward Asia." Cool Weather Forecast Here

Frost tonight in the country away from the bay shore and continued cool weather for the next five days is forecast for Northern Michigan by the U. S. Weather Bureau.

S. E. Decker, U. S. Weather Bureau meteorologist at Escanaba, said the low tonight will be near 30 in the open country. In Escanaba the forecast low is 35 degrees.

For the period May 17-22, inclusive, the temperatures in Michigan will average 2 to 4 degrees below normal. The temperature range in Northern Michigan will be from a low of about 25 to a high of about 58.

Following the cool spell on Wednesday, the temperature will rise slowly through Thursday and Friday and there will be little change thereafter for the five-day period. There will be little or no precipitation.

The current cold wave has brought freezing temperatures to Houghton, 31 degrees; Marquette 32; Sault Ste. Marie 33; and Frost was reported as far south in the state as Lansing. Lowest in the nation was 11 at Mount Washington, N. H.

Holy Name Carnival Will Open Tonight

The Holy Name High School carnival, under the joint sponsorship of the Fathers club, Mothers club and Booster club, will launch into a week of entertainment this evening at the Upper Peninsula State fairgrounds.

Numerous amusement rides and concession booths of the Skerbeck Shows will provide an enjoyable evening for the carnival patrons. Highlight of the carnival week will be the dance Thursday evening in the 4-H building. Music will be provided by Cousin Fuzzy and His Cousins.

Proceeds of the events will go to the benefit of Holy Name High School.

Two Injured In Highway Mishap

Drivers of two vehicles were injured, and seven new small boats being hauled on a truck-trailer were scattered about the highway, in a highway accident yesterday afternoon on US-2-41 at Pine Ridge.

The injured: E. Paul Snyder, 53, of Indian River, who is receiving treatment in St. Francis Hospital for a severe scalp wound; and Sylvester R. Raunto, 38, of Phelps, Wis., who suffered a back injury but refused hospitalization.

The accident was investigated by Michigan State Police of the Gladstone post, who reported the collision occurred at 3:20 p. m. Snyder was driving a pick-up truck hauling a big trailer carrying the seven Thompson boats, which he had purchased at Peshigo. A tire blew out of the truck, causing the truck to go out of control.

Raunto was driving a semi-tractor loaded with telephone poles. The two vehicles struck almost head-on, and the boats were scattered about the highway.

Delphis J. Lavigne Of Schaffer Dies

Delphis J. Lavigne, 81, well-known Schaffer resident, died at 2 p. m. Monday at St. Francis Hospital where he had been a medical patient for the past three days. Mr. Lavigne had been ill for one month.

Born Oct. 13, 1873 at Three Rivers, province of Quebec, Canada, he came to this country and to Calumet in 1893. Mr. Lavigne was a miner for the Calumet and Hecla Mining Company. He came to the Schaffer community in 1917 with his wife, the former Alphonsine Cloutier. The couple were married July 15, 1907 at Calumet.

Mr. Lavigne was a member of Sacred Heart Church and Holy Name Society. Besides his widow, Mr. Lavigne was survived by four daughters, Mrs. Albert (Mary) Picard of Menominee, Miss Amanda Lavigne of Escanaba, Mrs. William (Rose) Savage of Schaffer and Mrs. Joseph (Bertha) Vallos of Chicago Heights, Ill.; four sons, Arthur of Flint, Alfred of Schaffer, Albert of Saginaw and Edward of Lebanon, Ill.; one sister and one brother in Canada, 29 grandchildren and 19 great grandchildren.

Friends may call at the Boyle Funeral Home, Bark River. The parish rosary will be recited this evening at 8 at the funeral home chapel.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 9:30 a. m., at Sacred Heart Church will Rev. J. N. Arneith as celebrant of the solemn requiem high mass. Burial will be made in Holy Cross Cemetery.

Importance Of Tourist Industry Is Emphasized

Clarence Moreau, chairman of the Hospitality Day observance today of Michigan Week in Delta County, has prepared some information concerning the importance of tourist industry in Michigan and this area.

"During this period of Michigan Week", Mr. Moreau states, "it is timely to advise our citizens of the importance of the tourist industry to the whole state and particularly the Upper Peninsula and Delta County."

"With manufacturing and agriculture, Michigan's tourist industry is in the top bracket of the state's revenue producers. Most significant, however, is the fact that in two-thirds of the state, the tourist industry is the number one source of revenue — and this revenue amounts to some $300,000,000."

Facts About Vacationers
"Every section of the state benefits from the tourist trade, and such is the inter-relation of business that these dollars find their way into every channel of trade—retail, wholesale and professional. In some localities, where promise of financial reward from agriculture is meager, the land has been put to profitable use by devoting it basically to the tourist trade."

Moreau presented some interesting facts about the Michigan vacationer. The vacationer is a family man, 46% of vacation parties include children under 16 and the average vacation party includes a statistical 3.1 persons, slightly above the national average; his vacation visit averages 12.3 days; his per-party expenditure averages $288; here is how he travels, automobile is 89.9%, train is 1.9%, bus is 1.4%, plane 3%, ship .1%, combination (plane-bus, auto-train, etc.), 6.5%.

Where He Stays
Here is where he stays, motel 46%, cottage 23%, friends or relatives 28%, resort hotel 13%, transient hotel 12%, tent 8%, tourist home 8% and trailer 3% (percentages total more than 100 because some persons named more than one type of accommodations); here is what he wants, sightseeing 70%, scenery 62%, fishing 55%, swimming 40%, visiting friends and relatives 26%, historic points, 24%, camping 13%, hiking 12%, hunting 9%, sailing 7% and canoeing 6%, and his average income is over $5,000. Fifty-four percent of the heads of families had incomes of $5,000 and over; 38% had incomes from $3,000 to $4,999 and the remaining 8% reported incomes of less than $3,000.

The American Automobile Association breaks down the average auto tourist expenditures per dollar as follows: meals, 29c; transportation, 21c; lodgings, 20c; retail purchases, 18c; amusements 7c, and travel attraction admissions, 5c.

Important To County
"Here in Delta County," Mr. Moreau added, "the tourist industry is our greatest source of revenue. Nineteen years ago the industry began with two one room cabins using wood stoves constructed by Hugh Brotherton Sr., a mile north of Ford River. Gradually other small units came along until the actual cabin and motel boom of the past five years."

"There are presently 82 separate cabin operations in Delta County which will house 2200 guests each night. Added to his guests each are accommodations furnished by hotels and private homes that bring our total nightly guest capacity to well over 2700. Less than 5% of these accommodations are not entirely modern, but all are heated."

"Since the average expenditure per person on vacation is $7.50 per day, Delta County has a potential of $20,250 per night when its accommodations are filled, meaning big business."

"Surprising as these figures may be, it is possible and very likely that the traffic increase expected upon completion of the Straits Bridge will encourage even more lodging and entertainment facilities which will increase our tourist income."

"All of this is possible if our business people will emphasize the good host attitude toward the tourist guest. Everyone who comes into contact with the tourist should be a gracious host and should let the welcome mat show plainly. Making our guests 'feel at home' and being on our toes in furnishing of precise and truthful information is absolutely necessary in our business of enticing tourists to return again and to bring their friends along."

Foster Mother Held For Fatal Spanking

DETROIT (AP)—The Wayne County prosecutor's office has recommended that a manslaughter warrant be sought against a foster mother in the fatal spanking of a 6-year-old boy.

An autopsy showed the boy Robert Szabo, died of hemorrhages and shock following a severe beating on the buttocks, forearms and hands.

Police quoted the foster mother, Mrs. Rosemary Jacques, 31, wife of Patrolman Francis Jacques, 30, a Detroit policeman, as saying she spanked the boy twice Saturday with a three-quarter-inch thick wooden paddle.

Mrs. Jacques told police she "must have hit Bobby harder than I thought."

John L. Loell Taken By Death

John L. Loell, attorney prominent in the Escanaba community about 30 years ago, died Thursday at his home in Detroit, according to information received here. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon.

Born in Escanaba, Loell attended Escanaba schools and the University of Michigan, where he played fullback on the U. of M. football team under the late Coach Fielding Yost. He received his law degree at the University in 1911.

Residing in Escanaba until 25 years ago, Atty. Loell maintained law offices in the First National Bank building. The Loell home was located on S. 10th St., now the French apartments.

At the time of his death, Atty. Loell was mediator with the State Labor Mediation Board. He had resided in Detroit for 25 years and was formerly regional manager of the American Arbitration Association.

Surviving is his wife, Cornelia. The funeral services were held in the William R. Hamilton Chapel, 3975 Cass, Detroit.

Details Given Of C&H Offer To Buy Goodman Lumber Co.

Announcement has been made of the details of the offer of Calumet & Hecla, Inc., to acquire the stock of the Goodman Lumber Company, Goodman, Wisconsin.

Calumet & Hecla will issue 114,000 shares of common stock in exchange for all of the common stock of the Goodman Company. Completion of the deal hinges upon acceptance of the terms by the individual shareholders of the Goodman Company.

The Goodman Company operates a sawmill, a veneer mill and a wood conversion plant, and owns 70,000 acres of timberlands in northern Wisconsin. It has been under a sustained yield forest management program since 1927.

The identity of the Goodman Lumber Company would not be changed. The acquisition would make Goodman part of the long range diversification program of Calumet & Hecla. Calumet & Hecla already own 200,000 acres of timberlands on the Keweenaw Peninsula of northern Michigan. These forests are also operated on a sustained yield basis.

Lifer Asks Parole

LANSING (AP)—The State Parole Board said Tuesday it will hold a public hearing May 25 on the parole of George Cone, 56, sentenced to life for car theft.

Cone was sentenced by an Ingham County Court in 1930. He is serving his term at the Marquette Prison branch.

Lions, Ladies Hear Details Of Bridge Project

Escanaba Lions and their ladies were given a word and picture review of the Mackinac Straits Bridge project last night at the Sherman Hotel by Prentiss Brown Jr., and Herman Ellis of St. Ignace.

Ellis, official photographer and public relations specialist of the bridge authority, showed color slides of the work that has been done to date in the installation of caissons and piers for the bridge structure. He graphically explained the technical problems that have been overcome by the engineers and contracting companies. He described the Mackinac project as the greatest bridge project in history.

Ellis said that the most complex engineering and construction problems involved in the bridge project have already been completed and predicted that the construction schedule will proceed according to plan. The bridge will be put into service Nov. 1, 1957, Ellis said.

Prentiss Brown Jr. Talks

Ellis reported that the towers for the central span, 570 feet above the water, will be erected this season. Spinning of the cable, 24 1/2 inches in diameter, is scheduled for next year, he said.

Prentiss Brown Jr., representing his father, Former Senator Prentiss Brown and chairman of the Mackinac Bridge Authority, reported that more workers from Escanaba are employed on the bridge project than any other city in the Upper Peninsula.

Richard Oslund, young Escanaba magician, also entertained the Lions, ladies and guests with a 20 minute demonstration of magical tricks. Shandra Williams and Sharron Greis presented several dancing and singing novelty numbers. They were accompanied by Mrs. Edith Lawrie.

Mayor Gibney Is Guest

Music for the dinner was presented by a string ensemble of high school students under the direction of Clara Somers.

As part of the local observance of Michigan Week, the Lions entertained Mayor L. D. Gibney of Montgomery and his wife, visiting here in the Exchange of Mayors program. Mayor Harlan Yelland, unable to go to Montgomery, was toastmaster of the dinner. Mayor Yelland is a charter member of the Escanaba Lions Club.

Ladies participated in a Michigan Week quiz and first prize, a $25 war bond, was won by Mrs. John Boyle.

Fire Set By Snake At Electric Fence

TWIN LAKE (P) — A 2 1/2-foot blue racer snake electrocuted itself and touched off a grass fire on the Willis Johnson farm Sunday as it chomped an electric fence post for a sunbath.

"I got several neighbors to see it. Otherwise, they wouldn't believe it," Johnson said after the snake and others extinguished the blaze.

He said the two-strand charged fence is anchored to tree stumps on his farm. The snake, trying to climb a stump, touched the charged wire while its tail still was on the ground.

Sparks danced along the snake and set fire to the dry grass, Johnson said.

Hiawatha

Mr. and Mrs. Jonas Sjogren of Nahma were visitors at the home Rev. and Mrs. Nile Byers Sunday.

Hershel Byers accompanied the Rev. Nile Byers to Rhinelander Saturday to visit his sister, Daisy, whom he had not seen in several years. Rev. Byers took his class of Rhinelander, where the boys spent the afternoon fishing. They stayed at the Ed Cody resort, and on Sunday attended the Four-square Church there. They were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Cody for dinner on Sunday, and left late Sunday afternoon to return to Hiawatha.

A group of 4-H boys and girls met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wienert on Friday evening for their first meeting of the summer season.

Prater and Sons of Cooks are cutting timber on the tract of land owned by Bill Byers of Muskegon.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Barrow of Shingleton are the parents of a son born Wednesday at the hospital in Marquette. Mrs. Barrow is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Ruggles of Hiawatha.

Rev. Nile Byers took several high school students to school by car Monday morning as he could not get the Hiawatha Township bus started, due to battery failure.

Canon For Cathedral Adopted By Diocese In Annual Convention

IRON MOUNTAIN—Acceptance of a new mission in Eagle Harbor, Keweenaw county and adoption of the canon officially designating Menominee as the site of the diocesan cathedral highlighted the opening business of the 60th annual convention of the Episcopal Diocese of Northern Michigan here this morning.

The convention opened with an evening service yesterday attended by approximately 120 clergy and lay delegates, alternates and visitors from nine parishes and 14 missions in the Upper Peninsula.

The Rt. Rev. Herman R. Page, of Menominee, Bishop of the diocese, delivered his annual address to the convention at the opening service.

Michigan UCT Honors Larson

Clarence E. Larson was elected grand sentinel of the United Commercial Travelers of Michigan at the state convention in Saginaw last weekend and Escanaba was named as the site for the 1960 convention of the organization.

By virtue of his election as grand sentinel, Larson will automatically advance progressively to the state head of the organization in 1960, the year that the convention will be held here.

I. R. Peterson of Escanaba was elected delegate to the Supreme Sessions convention to be held in Boston in July. Others from the Escanaba Council who were given appointments are Al St. Pierre, grand youth chairman; Ed Hara, Jr., president of the Secretary-Treasurer's Association; M. R. Oslund, promotional chairman of the Escanaba Council; and Mabel Oslund, grand promotional chairman of the Escanaba Council; and Mabel Oslund, grand junior counselor for the UCT Auxiliary.

Others from Escanaba who attended the convention were Ronald Stecker, Al Taylor, Louis Auger, John Lasnoski and Earl Brown.

Next year's convention will be held in Detroit.

Michigan Week Has Designated Today State Hospitality Day

The friendliness of Michigan's people is emphasized today in the street, because Michigan Week observance keeps today as Hospitality Day. Hospitality is an evidence of enlightenment. Always, as people progressed in their education and understanding, they became more friendly toward strangers, welcoming them instead of confronting them with suspicions born of fear and uncertainty.

From earliest times the people of Michigan have been notably hospitable and the quality has helped the growth of the state. Today hospitality is a natural element of the graciousness of the Michigan people and it is also one of the reasons for many of the state's public organizations. The service clubs stress hospitality, welcoming strangers and newcomers to the community and exchanging members with others clubs to exercise the hospitality that increases friendship. Newcomer clubs welcome newly arrived families to many Michigan communities help them establish friendly relationship with the community and intimate connections with friends quickly.

Hospitality is created by many individuals and organizations working to create public benefits which are available to everyone. The Red Cross Gray Ladies and the Hospital Auxiliary members give patients some of the feeling of home in the state's hospitals. Parent Teacher groups invite parents to take an active interest in the community's schools. There are many organized expressions of Michigan's hospitality, but it is probably most impressive in the total of the hospitality exercised individually by all its citizens.

It is not only social achievement for a people to be hospitable, it is also now recognized as good business, particularly in a state like Michigan where the touring and resort industry is important. Michigan has many things to make touring and resorting appealing. The element which, along with pleasant housing for guests, makes these natural, industrial and historic attractions truly appealing is hospitable people. Valuable in business as in social relations, hospitality is a magic element in the tourist industry.

It would be hard to find another state where hospitality is offered in so many public festivals as it is in Michigan. The celebrations that bid visitors come and enjoy themselves mark maple sugar making, smelt dipping, fishing, blossom tours, canoe racing, water sports, pancake making, historical expositions, theatricals, horse shows, yacht races, concerts, fruit harvests, sports events, homecomings, educational gatherings, fairs, hunter roundups, flower shows, art exhibits, farming contests. In Michigan, people at play invite others to join them.

Michigan is fifth among the states in volume of tourist business, with an estimated $500,000,000 annual share of the nation's $8 billion total. This total can be influenced strongly by the general state of hospitality in Michigan. The courteous gasoline station worker becomes an effective promoter of tourist business. So does the friendly hotel employee and the waitress who takes a little extra trouble to please and the boat liveryman who makes the extra effort in hospitality.

Hospitality Day in Michigan Week is a reminder that the hospitality of its people is one of the state's charms and it is also a reminder that it can be increased to the benefit of the state's business, but, even moreso, to the benefit of Michigan's own people.

Words, Wit & Wisdom

By William Morris

"Many, many years ago," writes a San Diego reader, "my grandfather used an expression which I remember well but have never quite understood. When he looked at one of his many headstrong, impetuous grandchildren bent on some teen-age mischief (yes, we had some 'wild ones' in those days, too) he would mutter through his beard, 'That young 'un had better slow up or, like the saddler of Bawtry, he'll come to no good end.' Can you tell me the significance of this remark?"

That was an old Yorkshire proverb which your grandfather was quoting and the story behind it is this: During the eighteenth century it was the practice of a well-known tavern in York, England, to provide a farewell drink for all criminals condemned to death. The custom was for the condemned man and his guards to stop by the public house for this parting draught.

But one such—the saddler of Bawtry—refused to stop for the drink and soon was hanged. The irony of the tale lies in the fact that, had he tarried only a few minutes at the tavern, a reprieve which was en route from the king would have reached the gallows in time to spare his life.

Many morals, it seems to me, may be drawn from this little proverb. The more raffish among us may settle for its reaffirmation of the old saying that you should never pass up a free drink. But, on another and more serious level, it reminds us that when grave issues impend, when—as was literally true in the case of the saddler of Bawtry—life and death are in the balance, it's always wise to move with caution.

Try And Stop Me By BENNETT CERF

There's no nonsense about Moss Hart's irresistible 4-year-old daughter, Cathy who knows what she likes—and its any kind of food. The fact that her father has dubbed her "Miss Garbage Pail" doesn't disturb her in the slightest. The other evening her eyes widened when she saw a beautiful chocolate cake on the sideboard. "I know I'm Miss Garbage Pail," she announced firmly, "but I still want a piece of that cake!" Another time Moss asked her what she had eaten for lunch at school. Cathy answered, "I don't gossip."

After-dinner speaking, maintains the Mayor of Westminster, England, is one of the three most difficult accomplishments. The other two? Climbing a fence that is leaning towards you, and kissing a girl who is leaning away from you. I'm sure you know what you should do if you come home some evening and find a horse in your bathtub. Pull the plug out!

The Doctor Says...

Recovery Depends on Type Of Disease and Person

By EDWIN P. JORDAN M.D. — Written for NEA Service

Any person who is sick wants to know: Will I recover? How long will it take? If I do not get well entirely, how much will the failure to do so interfere with my future activities? Doctors speak of this as "prognosis" or prospects for recovery.

Unfortunately these questions cannot always be answered as definitely as one would like. Why not? First, to the question of getting well. For some diseases a doctor can say with a good deal of confidence that recovery will take place. This is because the disease is mild and practically everyone gets well. So it is with the common cold, for example.

With a great many other diseases however, the answer is not so simple. The condition may be mild for most, but perhaps four or five out of 100 develop serious complications from which they do not recover. Under such circumstances the doctor has to be conservative and hedge in his promises. If he tells the patient and his family that recovery is certain but that particular patient is one of those who do not do well, everyone is upset. The more uncertain the disease the worst is the problem.

At the beginning of an illness the doctor is even less able to tell whether the patient will be in the group where favorable results occur or in the less favored group.

Experienced doctors naturally are reluctant to tell the patient or the family something definite when they may have a 50-50 chance of being wrong.

The same problems exist when it comes to the question of how long an illness will last. Some diseases, like chicken pox, almost all take about the same length of time. A great many others vary so much that it is pure guesswork to say how long it will take before recovery is complete.

The third question is likewise difficult to answer. If a disease is present which is likely to limit the activity of the patient after the immediate illness is over, it is often impossible to tell how much the damage will be until late in its course. Something like this would be true for rheumatic fever where the heart is affected little or not at all in some, and in others so much that there is tremendous limitation on activity later.

Many factors influence the outcome of most diseases: the age of the patient, state of health at the time when the illness developed, the family history and, not least, the mental attitude of the patient. Indeed, there are so many factors entering into prognosis that in most cases physicians do not want to commit themselves, or at least not definitely, until towards the end of the illness when the final outcome is much easier to predict.

Today In Europe

By DAVID LAWRENCE

PARIS—There is something very impressive and of incalculable value about the new-fashioned diplomacy which brings the Secretary of State of the United States to Paris for informal talks with the foreign ministers of France and Great Britain as well as with the top men of other countries which comprise the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Critics may say the head of the State Department should not travel around, but it is difficult to imagine how any progress could be made any other way in solving present-day problems among the allies.

Unfortunately, lots of mischievous rumors and some distorted reports reach back home to the parliaments and to the American Congress. It is not always easy to overcome the handicaps that interference, even by American legislators, sometimes brings. But if the members of Congress who are so reckless with their comments on world affairs, especially the carping critics among the Democrats, could attend a press conference held here by the Secretary of State, they would come to realize how delicate and complicated are most of the questions tackled by the foreign ministers.

This last week has seen many important conferences, but they are not unlike several meetings held here before. They are all significant. The modern way is for the top representatives of the allies to sit down together and thresh out their differences behind closed doors. They talk frankly and at times heatedly, but they come out of it as a rule with a clear understanding of the viewpoint of their respective countries.

Perhaps the most ticklish of all the questions this week was the problem of Indo-China. Neither the French nor the American government could afford to place itself in the position of trying to settle the internal affairs of South Vietnam, as this would only intensify Communist propaganda there. But certain parallel or common policies were agreed upon which may help to bring stability to the situation in the southern part of Indo-China. For, although the desire is to see some form of Democratic government chosen, it is not easy to establish at once an electoral machinery such as exists in a European parliamentary system. But out of the Turbulence of these last few weeks may come a representative system for South Vietnam, and that is the objective now.

Despite the newspaper reports about a grave crisis in the relations between France and the United States over the Indo-China question, it is a fact that both governments recognized all along how important it is to reach an understanding and not allow the Indo-China dispute to impair their working arrangements in many other questions of far greater importance to both.

The American people can rest assured that Secretary Dulles handled himself very creditably here. Notwithstanding some garbled impressions that came to certain senators, there was no mistake made here by Mr. Dulles in talking firmly where firmness was necessary. Those who heard his reply for example, in the North Atlantic council meeting to Foreign Secretary Spaak of Belgium on the Formosa question said it was an excellent rebuttal to a statement that completely misconstrued the American position.

Nor is Mr. Dulles stampeded or pushed around by the Soviet tactics. He was clear-cut in his announcement here that he wouldn't go to Vienna until the Austrian treaty provisions had been finally set down on paper ready for signing. He is equally determined not to become involved in a protracted discussion in Vienna about the details of the forthcoming four-power conference.

There is a restraint and a forbearance about Mr. Dulles' manner in these top-level negotiations, and at the same time such an earnest reflection by him of the truly American people can well be proud of their itinerant secretary of state. (Reproduction Rights Reserved)

Germans Come Back To Reims, Ten Years After Surrender

THIS WAS REIMS ON MAY 7, 1945, as German and Allied representatives met to sign German surrender documents. At center facing Germans (foreground) is U. S. Gen. Walter Bedell Smith.

REIMS, France—(NEA)—The Germans are coming back to Reims. They outnumber by more than five to one French visitors to the famed War Room where, at 2:41 a. m. on the seventh of May just 10 years ago, Gen. Gustav Jodl signed the act of surrender to the Allies.

The surrender scene seems to be one of the principal tourist attractions for thousands of German tourists who have been coming to Reims in increasing numbers during the past three years.

They are well-dressed and in variously carry expensive cameras. What thoughts flood their minds as they stand before the battered oak table and the chart-lined walls where Nazis, plunged into its twilight may only be conjectured.

The "Salle de la Guerre," as it is called on signposts, is in the sprawling brick buildings of the Reims Modern Technical College where Supreme Commander Dwight D. Eisenhower made his headquarters during the final months of World War II. Then it was a military briefing room.

Fourteen months after the surrender the room was officially handed back to the town officials. Except for a wooden barrier, placed there to prevent any inclination on the part of visitors to acquire a piece of chart as a souvenir, the room is exactly the same as it was on the day which witnessed the twilight of the Nazis. The old and battered oak table with its shiny black top and the cheap wooden chairs bear printed slips showing where the Allied officers sat facing the three German envoys.

Classed as an "Historical Monument" the war room is the second of three points of interest which visitors to Reims are shown. The first is the 13th Century cathedral of Saint Poth, badly damaged by German shell fire in the 1914-1918 war, and the third, the world-famous champagne cellars.

Open to the public in July, 1945, more than 5,000 people visited the war room that year. The following years, visitors numbered 7,000 and 9,000. Travel was still restricted in France and gasoline severely rationed in 1949 the figure jumped to 20,000 and by the end of 1954 more than 168,000 people had passed through the doors.

Seldom a day passes without a group of students being brought there to study the Allies' tremendous war effort and plan of campaign.

In another corridor is the office once occupied by General Ike. Now it is the typical sitting room of a middle-class French family, that of Gaston Crampe, principal of the college which has a roll call of 2,023 students.

"Unfortunately I never did see General Eisenhower," said Crampe. "During the entire war we held our classes in a building behind the main college. The latter was never occupied by the Germans, mainly because it was too big and too near the railroad. We used a side entrance and only once in a while did we get a glimpse of the Supreme Commander's automobile with the famous SHAEF shield." There is a project afoot, he declared, to reconstitute the room as it was when Eisenhower used it.

"Then the Ministry of Education will have to find us other living quarters," chipped in Mme. Crampe.

I don't know what to do with it (her share of million dollars). I'm not interested in it right now. First I want to finish my (nursing) course, and that will be two more years.—Yvonne Dionne.

Edson In Washington

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Three-year extension of the reciprocal trade agreements program in some form satisfactory to the Eisenhower administration now seems assured by Congress. The next step will be to secure passage of new legislation setting up OTC—the Organization for Trade Cooperation.

This is something new in name but not in principle. A smoke screen of artificial complexity is being thrown around it to make it look difficult.

The Eisenhower administration will attempt to beat down the opposition with this line of explanation:

The trade agreements renewal act will continue the President's authority to adjust U. S. tariffs under specified limitations. All presidents have had this authority since the original trade agreements act was passed in 1934.

In the beginning these adjustments were negotiated separately with other countries. At one time the U. S. had 29 of these agreements. It still has 10 today.

But in 1947, at Geneva, Switzerland, 23 of the principal trading countries of the world agreed to negotiate these tariff adjustments jointly, instead of one at a time. This was the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade, known as GATT. It has now been functioning effectively for seven years.

Thirty-four countries having over 80 per cent of the world trade have now subscribed to GATT. It covers tariff concessions on over 50,000 items.

Because of the number of these agreements, an impression has been given that GATT is a tremendously complicated thing.

Reduced to fundamentals, GATT serves two simple purposes:

Through regular meetings of the GATT country representatives, a friendly forum is provided for reducing the obstacles to expanding world trade. If some countries have high tariffs against American-made products, the U. S. can negotiate to lower these tariffs. In exchange we can lower the tariffs which this country has imposed on foreign exports.

Second, the GATT countries have drawn up a code of rules for international fair trade. This prevents, for example, the imposition of import quotas and discrimination against the exports of any of the contracting countries.

GATT has been revised three times since the end of the war. The last revision was concluded at Geneva in March.

Included in the amendments was a proposal to set up a permanent organization to carry on the work of GATT between its semiannual meetings of the 34 countries.

In the past, whenever any new issue came up between sessions, a complicated, time-consuming postal ballot had to be taken in 34 capitals. It was discovered that what GATT needed was a permanent secretariat and a standing group to administer its affairs full time.

This is all the proposed OTC—Organization for Trade Cooperation—will be. The U. S. share of GATT costs has been only $60,000 a year in the past. OTC won't cost much more.

Rep. Jere Cooper (D-Tenn.) Chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, has introduced a bill to authorize U. S. membership in OTC and give it congressional approval. Hearings on this measure are expected to open within a month.

There is some possibility that congress may not complete action on the Cooper bill this season. Opposition may be stronger than expected, although the Eisenhower administration is pushing for early passage.

If OTC is not approved by congress it will not mean the death of GATT nor will it seriously cripple the effectiveness of the reciprocal trade agreements program.

In considering the legislation to set up OTC, congress will necessarily review the work of GATT. But GATT is after all an executive agreement approved by the president under powers given to him by the trade agreements act. GATT is not a treaty that must be ratified by the U. S. senate.

OTC will not come into being until countries having 80 per cent of the GATT trade have approved it. Since the U. S. and the U. K. each has 20 per cent of this volume of trade, disapproval by either country would kill it.

Foam Rubber Invites Recushioning Projects

Once upon a time, recushioning of furniture was left pretty much to the experts. Not so since the development of foam rubber padding, a frothy solid made from liquid latex molded in a great variety of shapes and sizes.

Now home recushioning projects are commonplace, simply because foam rubber is such a breeze to work with — a do-it-yourself product par excellence. It can be cut, bent, rolled and folded into most any shape to fit, for example, odd-shaped chair arms and seats.

With a special adhesive, it can be cemented to wood, metal, plastic and fabrics. It can also be bonded to itself, a factor that reduces waste because large pieces can be made from several scraps.

One company, Goodyear, to be exact, makes three types of foam rubber for home projects—molded cushions, solid slabs and cored slabs.

The molded cushions come in sizes to fit many styles of chair and sofa seat—cushion covers. They have rounded edges and are reversible—that is, smooth on both sides.

Solid slabs are smooth—two-sides, square-edged pads used chiefly over springs or such solid materials as wood and metal.

Cored slabs are similar, except that they have rounded edges and uniform, open cores molded into the undersides. Long lengths are suitable for installing deep cushioning on chaise lounges and continuous-seat sofas.

There are countless home uses for three types of foam rubber. Several suggested by Goodyear are:

Chair Seat Cushions—Use molded reversible type padding in thicknesses of 5 1/4, 5 3/4 or 6 1/2 inches. Foam rubber padding should be 3/4 to one inch longer and wider than cushion cover measurements. Open cover at rear by cutting stitches at the cord line. Pull out old padding, insert rubber and restitch.

Bathinette Pad—Cut a sheet of one-inch thick slab stock to size of bathinette top. Cover with waterproof material. The same material can also be used for playpen pads. A crib pad of three-inch-thick cored stock will further add to baby's comfort.

Ottoman and Stools—Use one or 1 1/2-inch slab stock, allowing approximately quarter-inch oversize. Cement rubber to top and cover with plastic or fabric upholstery material, pulled tight and tacked to underside. Cored stock recommended on large sizes.

Outdoor Furniture—Use cored stock in thicknesses of 2 9/16, 2 5/8 or three inches for chaise lounge and similar furniture. Insert in present cushion cover, or make new cover. Padding should be 3/4-inch oversize to fit cushion covers up to 24 inches in length; 1 1/4 inches on lengths from 25 to 36 inches; 1 3/4 inches from 37 to 54 inches; 2 1/4 inches from 55 to 72 inches, and 2 3/4 inches oversize for 72-inch lengths and over.

You can use ordinary household scissors to cut foam rubber to any desired size. Cutting is easier, however, if you lubricate scissors by dipping them in water frequently. Foam rubber can also be cut easily on a band saw.

You don't have to worry about wasting foam rubber, for scraps can be put to good use. Since they hold water, small pieces of foam rubber are useful for dishwashing and carwashing. As kneeling pads they'll help prevent "housemaid's knee." They're handy for dusting suede shoes and felt hats, too.

Irrigation System Installed In Cave

STANTON, Mo. (AP)—Now they're irrigating caves.

A $75,000 irrigation system was installed in the Meramec Caverns here by Lester B. Dill, owner. From lack of rain, some of the picturesque limestone formations and statues were becoming dry. Moisture supplied by an electric pump is keeping them fresh and full of luster and color. It serves the three miles of cave open to the public. Dill says he thinks it's the first irrigation system for cave.

Freeze Forecast Again Tonight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Freezing temperatures forecast for practically all of Michigan tonight pose a new threat to the state's already frost-damaged fruit and berry crops.

Sub-freezing weather over upstate cherry lands last night appeared in first appraisals to have done little damage, primarily because winds kept down frost.

It got down to 29 degrees at Traverse City and to 27 at Pellston. It was 34 as far south as Benton Harbor.

Bad For Strawberries

Tonight's forecast for the southeast and southwest is 32 to 36 degrees. For the northeast and northwest it is 30 to 35. And for the Upper Peninsula, 26 to 36.

In the south winds ranging from 10 to 20 miles an hour are predicted, but the outlook is for 10 to 12 m.p.h. winds upstate.

Clifford Conrad, Berrien County assistant agricultural agent, said that 30 degrees forecast in southwestern counties would endanger strawberry crops cut in half by a freeze 10 days ago.

Conrad estimated a third of the strawberry crop that is left would be susceptible to frost damage at 30-degree ground-level temperatures. The other two thirds is in irrigated or protected fields.

Grand Marais Coldest

Bush berries, higher off the ground, likely would escape, Conrad said. Apples were seriously damaged in the May 8 freeze, which Conrad said cut the peach crop 25 per cent and pears and plums 50 per cent.

Truck farmers said at the Grand Rapids market today that overnight winds and a low of only 36 prevented any new damage in that area. The Grand Rapids forecast for tonight is 34.

Grand Marais, in the Upper Peninsula, registered an overnight low of 26. Other lows over Michigan included: Alpena 36, Battle Creek, 35, Detroit 36, Houghton 31, Lansing 34 and Sault Ste. Marie 33.

Mrs. Vader Resigns From Directorate Of Voters League

The resignation of Mrs. Leonard Vader from the board of the League of Women Voters was accepted at a special board meeting held last evening at the home of Mrs. Sam Molod. Mrs. Vader has submitted her resignation in order that she may work for the election of one of the school board candidates.

League members are encouraged to work for the party or candidates of their choice, but board members may not do so because of their position of leadership for the organization. The League has always been a non-partisan organization, supporting issues in which it believes, but never supporting parties of candidates.

In this instance, the board will be preparing questions for the coming school board candidates meeting. Every effort is made to insure the impartiality of these questions. For this reason it is imperative that no board member be an active supporter of one candidate.

Other board action was the appointment of Miss Alice Potter as chairman of National Study Item I: United States trade policies.

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market managed a mild recovery today after a halting start.

Monday's market was down sharply on moderate volume, and today at the opening the downward trend continued.

However, by early afternoon, prices were up between one and three points. Losses extended to between one and two points.

The best performance today was by the steels, motors, coppers, and chemicals. The railroads were higher on balance while utilities were lower as a group.

The market has been in a general decline for the past three weeks ever since it touched a new record high April 26. Brokers are inclined to regard the trend as a consolidation movement of a type that frequently sets in after a sustained rise.

U. S. government bonds were higher.

School Building Bond Issue Set

LANSING (AP)—Legislation implementing the 100-million dollar school bond issue approved by voters last fall was a step closer to becoming law today.

The House Monday night unanimously approved a bill authorizing the State Administrative Board to sell the bonds, the money to be re-allocated to hard-pressed school districts.

A final vote on a companion bill spelling out procedures for granting the loans was scheduled in the House today.

Both bills have already been approved by the Senate. However, the upper chamber may balk at a House amendment which would allow the money to be used for construction of gymnasiums and auditoriums.

The Senate inserted a provision that would have prohibited school districts from using the state money for construction of gyms, auditoriums, swimming pools, athletic fields or stadiums.

The House Education Committee amended the bill further to allow use of the funds for gyms and auditoriums when approved by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Under the plan, only those school districts already levying at least 13 mills for construction purposes would be eligible for the loans.

Those qualifying would be required to repay the loans within 25 years, and to maintain the 13-mill tax until payment is complete.

High Court Upsets Michigan One-Man Grand Jury Cases

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court Monday reversed two contempt convictions stemming from Michigan's one-man grand jury system but avoided ruling on the legality of the system itself.

The men had been found guilty by a Detroit judge who had questioned them earlier while sitting as a one-man grand jury.

Justice Black, writing the court's 6-3 majority opinion, said it was a violation of the constitutional guarantee of due process of law for the same judge who heard the men in secret to preside at their later trial for contempt.

Newsmen Convicted
The court recessed until next Monday without announcing any decision on how and when to carry out its ruling of a year ago to-morrow that public school segregation is unconstitutional.

In other actions today:
Refused to interfere with convictions of three Cleveland Press newsmen on contempt charges for taking a courtroom picture a judge had barred.

Struck down an attempt by Ohio to tax federal securities owned by Banks.

Denied Edward Coco, a New York prize fight manager, a review of his second-degree murder conviction.

Black said this ruling on procedure made it unnecessary for the high court to decide on validity of the state's one-man grand jury law.

Reed Dissents
Justice Reed wrote a dissenting opinion, joined by Justices Minton and Burton. They said the convictions should be left to stand. The law permits Michigan judges to conduct secret one-man investigations of crime conditions.

Its validity was challenged by two Detroit residents—John White and Lee Roy Murchison—who were sentenced to jail a year ago after being summoned before Judge John P. O'Hara of the Recorder's Court of that city.

O'Hara was investigating charges of police corruption and gambling.

White told O'Hara his name but refused to answer any questions unless his attorney was present.

Murchison, a former Detroit policeman, denied making visits to the home of Edward Stephens in Detroit and was contradicted by two other policemen. O'Hara found him guilty of contempt for false swearing. Murchison was sentenced to 60 days in jail. White drew a 90-day sentence plus a $250 fine.

White and Murchison appealed after the Michigan Supreme Court upheld their sentences. They contended the Michigan procedure violated the due process guarantee. Stopping short of a ruling on the constitutional issue, Black wrote: "It would be very strange if our system of law permitted a judge to act as a grand jury and then try the very persons accused as a result of his investigations. x x x"

ORNAMENT HELPS FRUIT
HILLSBORO, Ore. (AP) — Rich and Son Nursery reports it has received a patent on a new tree, named the Oregon plum, developed from the ornamental flowering purple leaf plum, Prunus Pisardi, and the yellow-fruited plum, Shiro.

The new variety retains the blossoms and colored leaves of the ornamental tree. The fruit is cherry red outside and apricot yellow inside, the nursery says.

Growers say a number of new fruits have been developed in Oregon but use of a tree known chiefly as an ornamental is rare.

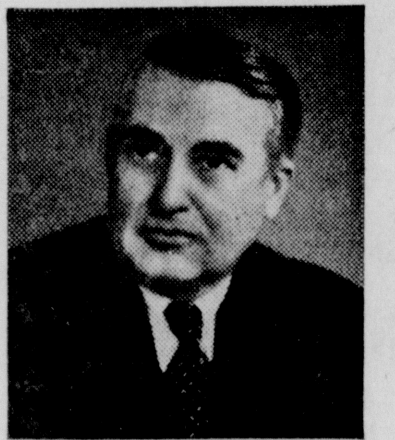

An important message by the Honorable Charles Edison, Former Governor of New Jersey...

"Then I realized something could be done about my hearing loss"

"For years I had been hard of hearing. And my condition became progressively worse with time. Conversations were difficult, conferences were a struggle, even social affairs lost their pleasure for me.

"And so I had a serious talk with my physician, who told me I could be helped with a hearing aid. It was that week that I started wearing a Zenith.

"Speaking from experience, I say this to anyone who can be helped with a hearing problem: Don't delay! I wish I could explain, particularly to younger people with hearing losses, how important it is to get a hearing aid the moment your physician recommends one. For better hearing means more opportunity... and more enjoyment... of everything that this great nation has to offer each of us."

Liberace Chicago Fans Stay Loyal In Spite Of Snub

CHICAGO (AP) — Loyal Liberace fans—100 strong—waited in vain three hours Sunday for a telephone call from their TV piano-playing idol.

The apparent snub from Liberace didn't in the least detract from their loyalty, though. They took it in good style.

The women, members of a Liberace fan club, gathered for a birthday party to observe the pianist's 36th birthday. He promised to call his personal regards.

After a three-hour wait, the telephone rang. "My heart's going pit-pat," gushed one fan. Mrs. Helene Jancke, 40, the club president, accepted the call.

"That was Lee's executive secretary," Mrs. Jancke told her group, "his very, very private secretary. Liberace just can't break away from the movie set. His secretary says he regrets it very much. He will send us a letter soon."

"They can't stop the cameras for a few fans," one matron said to soothe her companions. "It's nice he's going to write," chimed in another as the group filed from a restaurant.

Cop's Life Not Happy Even In Gay Nineties

ST. JOSEPH (AP)—Discovery of a St. Joseph city police report compiled just before the turn of the century shows a policeman's lot—even in the gay nineties—was not a happy one.

The report covered the year 1897. The three-man department headed by chief Curran S. Stuckey was busy that year.

Buggy-Racers Jailed

There were 497 arrests. Most were on drunk charges. Forty-six persons were nabbed on bicycle ordinance violations. Seven were jailed for horse-and-buggy racing on main streets.

In addition the department was badgered by tourists in the summer months.

Chief Stuckey comments to his honor Mayor John V. Starr and the aldermen:

"Police duties have increased over other years . . . in some branches doubled. If you carefully read the tables that are set forth in this report you will note the great amount of work our officers are expected to do during the excursion season, especially, when there are from 1,000 to 10,000 strangers to handle daily in preserving peace and order; to avert accidents, to direct folks to different places, to answer the thousands of questions asked . . . is a tax on the department members. They should be highly commended."

"Rushing The Can"

One charge baffled present day members of the 17-man force. It was listed as "rushing the can" and accounted for the arrest of 16 persons in that near-end-of-the-century year.

Investigation disclosed the following: Vagrants would get beer pails filled at local taverns and in violation of city law's drink the beer on city streets. Detection by police led to arrest on a charge of "rushing the can."

Baptist Conference Officers Elected

MENOMINEE (AP)—A Marquette minister is the new moderator of the Baptist General Conference of Upper Michigan and Northern Wisconsin.

The Rev. Arden Finke was elected moderator Saturday at the windup of the 62nd annual meeting of the conference.

Also elected were: The Rev. Emil Nylund of Ne-gaunee, vice moderator; the Rev. R. Hamrin of Escanaba, recording secretary; the Rev. Julien Leen of Iron Mountain, vice recording secretary, and Paul Heupel of Norway, treasurer.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By Josephine Culbertson

SAVED BY GOOD PLAY

SOUTH'S bidding in the deal below was little short of reckless, but he played the cards extremely well.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 NT	Pass	3 ♠ (!)	Pass
3 NT	Pass	4 ♠	Pass
5 ♥	Pass	Pass	Pass

North-South were using a system in which the mere two-spade or two-heart response to an opening notrump showed weakness; hence South felt that he had better make a jump takeout to insure reaching game. This, however, was a very questionable view, and the result was that

Distributed by King Features Syndicate

South landed at the five-level—North inevitably crediting South with much more than he had.

West opened a low diamond. South won with his blank king and led a spade toward the board. West put up the ace and made the safe continuation of a spade. Declarer now ruffed a low diamond and ruffed a spade with dummy's heart eight. It was fortunate for him that the spades broke 3-3 (to say nothing about the spade ace having been on side), but when South next led the ace and deuce of hearts, he was not so lucky. East split his honors, playing the jack, and when South won with the king, West showed out.

The crux now was to keep East from winning two trump tricks. South led a club to the king, discarded a spade on the diamond ace, and then led a diamond. The best East could do was to discard a club. South ruffed the trick, went back to dummy with a club and led another club, and though East had the Q-9 of trumps against South's blank ten, he could not keep declarer from making that heart ten for the fulfilling trick.

Mrs. Albert Weldum Candidate For Board

ROCK — Mrs. Albert Weldum is the only new candidate for the Rock Board of Education in the forthcoming annual school election which will be June 13 from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m., at the Rock High School. Incumbents seeking re-election are secretary, Albert Norden, and president, Emil De-Backer. Terms are for three years. Petitions for candidacy had to be filed by May 13.

Cheer Leaders Chosen

Cheerleaders for the 1955-56 season at the Rock High School elected by the student body are Janet Kulju, Celia Aalto and Barbara Strand for the 7-8th grade and high school, Emily Lund, Lucille Lund, Betty Sayen, Beverly Leh-to and Joyce Aalto.

Concert At School

The Concert Band and Chorus presented by the Northern Michigan College of Education at the Rock High School was well received by the student body and adults who attended it.

1945: NO. 1 FOE ... 1955: KEY ALLY

An innocent generation of Germans looks at its inheritance—shame, bombed-out cities, poverty and a thoroughly defeated homeland. Now, ten years after the surrender of Germany, May 8, 1945, that inheritance is remarkably transformed west of the Soviet zone.

Under the Yalta Agreement defeated Germany was divided into four zones, one each administered by U.S., Great Britain, France and Russia. Russia's zone soon became communized, and the Western world merged their zones in 1949, creating anti-Communist Federal Republic of Germany.

Then, West Germany rolled up its sleeves for the build-up job ahead. Under the leadership of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, it immediately began a comeback that has made West Germany the strongest nation in Europe, and vital key to the success of NATO.

West Germany's economy, in the meantime, made rapid strides. Today she is the strongest nation in Europe, economically, competing commercially in world markets. The Republic's 1954 import and export figures more than doubled pre-war 1936 levels.

West Germany's independence will be assured when the western powers complete ratification of the Paris pact to rearm their one-time enemy and end occupation. Although fear of a remilitarized Germany lingers in many quarters, NATO nations are pleased that a free West Germany will soon join them in the struggle against communism. This pleasure is reflected above in the faces of U. S. President Eisenhower, left, and Secretary of State Dulles as the President signs U. S. approval of the pact. West Germany will be the 15th NATO nation. And while West Germans rejoice at their freedom, their countrymen in the Russian zone remain under the Communist fist.

As the East-West cold war developed, the western world saw the need for West Germany's aid in defending Europe against possible Communist aggression. Plans were made for West Germany to contribute 12 divisions to a European army, but France's fear of a rearmament Germany kept these plans from becoming an early reality. Meanwhile, a West German police force, armed only with small weapons, grew up, later to become the nucleus of a West German army within the framework of NATO. A group of these police inspect weapons, above, during training in American sector in Berlin.

MERCURY

You don't have to look twice to tell it's a Mercury

MERCURY CONSISTENTLY LEADS ITS FIELD IN TOP TRADE-IN VALUE!
look at the record before you buy

MERCURY COSTS LESS THAN YOU THINK. This big Mercury Custom 6-passenger Sedan, shown above, costs less than 13 models in the "low-price" field.

No other car offers you 3 bigger reasons for buying it

- 1. EXCLUSIVE STYLING SHARED BY NO OTHER CAR. There's no mistaking a Mercury—it's distinctive from every angle. The unified bumper and grille assembly, the original use of color and chrome, the massive tail-lights... all say "Mercury."

Mercury offers 11 models in 3 series. You'll find a Mercury that's just right for your needs. Regardless of the one you select, you get the distinctive styling that makes Mercury America's most advanced new car.
- 2. NEW SUPER-TORQUE V-8 POWER AT EVERY SPEED. Mercury puts high horsepower to work in a new way—not just for high speeds but for everyday driving. You get far more pickup at every speed—reserve power for safer passing, hill climbing.

And "high-price" car features are yours in Mercury at no extra cost—4-barrel carburetor, high-compression anti-fouling spark plugs, ball-joint front wheel suspension, and dual exhausts on 8 of 11 models.
- 3. CONSISTENTLY HIGHEST TRADE-IN VALUE IN FIELD. Mercury is champion of its class for resale value, according to independent market reports of used-car prices. Year after year, Mercury has consistently held that distinction because it's styled to be years ahead in beauty... powered to be years ahead in performance.

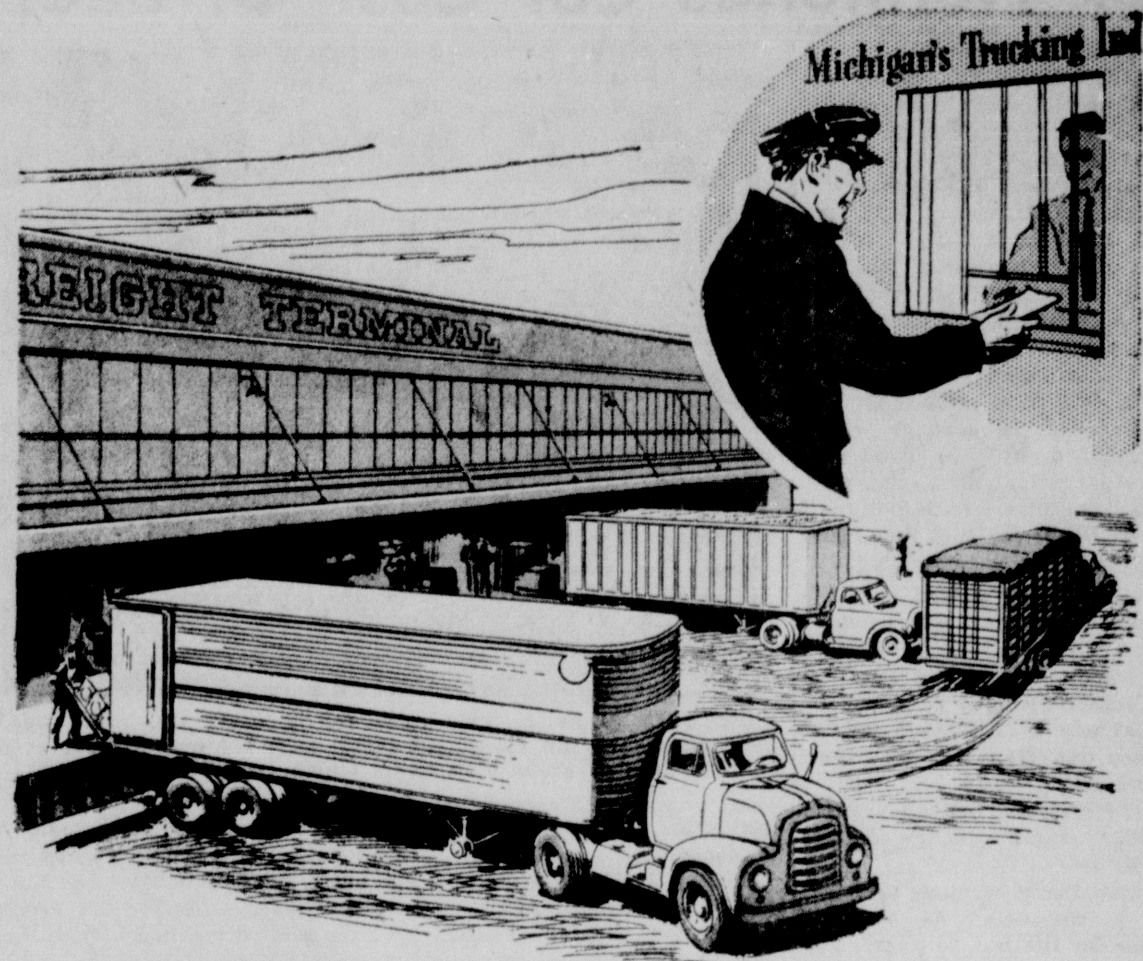

You're ahead when you drive a Mercury, too, because of Mercury's traditional low operating cost.

Sex Hormones Cut Cost Of Beef

AP Newsfeatures
BARRINGTON, Ill.—Steers fed a diet of corn and hay supercharged with female sex hormones put on more pounds at less cost without apparent ill effects.
Ralph McCall, beef cattle research manager of The Quaker Oats Co., says one lot of 16 steers got the hormones in a controlled test. A second lot of steers, the controls, was fed the same ration without hormones.
Each test steer was given 10 milligrams of the hormone a day as prescribed by the Food and Drug Administration, McCall said.
After the first month both lots were given all the feed they could eat.
The test group gained an average of 2.83 pounds a day, compared to 2.35 pounds a day gained by the controls. The feed cost for each hundredweight gain for the test lot was $22.34. Cost for the controls was $24.25 for each hundredweight.
Test steers weighed an average of 1,172½ pounds and the controls 1,093¾ pounds.
The synthetic hormone used has been manufactured as a white powder for the last 20 years. The Food and Drug Administration has recently approved its use as an appetizer for beef cattle. It is used in the poultry industry to fatten cockerels.

Purdue University, Iowa State College and others have been experimenting with the female sex hormone as a stimulant to enable animals to gain weight faster and more economically.
The female sex hormone is found in dehydrated green feeds. Traces of it are evident in young grass. The synthetic product is a compound of carbon, hydrogen and oxygen.

Miami Reporter Tells How Not To Retire

MIAMI, Fla. (P)—If you're planning to retire to South Florida and let one of those pretty avocado or lime orchards support you, a veteran newspaperman and amateur truck farmer advises: "Don't."

Steve Trumbell, a Miami Herald reporter, told his readers that he bought 30 acres of land with that idea 21 years ago. He's been "working at the newspaper business ever since to support the place," he said. His avocado and lime grove returned $834.81 last year, he said, but $500 of that was from rent on 10 acres of the land.

"There have been years of some profits," he said, "but never enough that would have made the place a living."

Rudolph Larsons To Spend Summer Months In Europe

Mr. and Mrs. J. Rudolph Lar-son of 1001 Sheridan Road, left last night for New York City where they will board the SS Kungsholm for Europe.

They will visit in Gothenburg, Sweden, with Mr. Larson's brothers and sister and their families, and with relatives and friends in Stockholm and other parts of Sweden. Mrs. Larson will spend considerable time with relatives in Esse, Finland.

They plan to return in September.

This is the Larsons' second trip to their homeland since they came to this country. Mr. Larson spent some time in the Scandinavian countries six years ago and Mrs. Larson visited there two years ago.

Their son, J. Robert Larson of Rock Island, Ill. is spending today with them and Mrs. Frank Midbo of Brooklyn, N. Y., the former Ellen Wicklund of Escanaba, will join them in New York City to wish them bon voyage.

Altar Society Will Meet Wednesday

St. Joseph's Altar Society will hold its regular monthly business meeting Wednesday at 8 p. m. at the parish hall. A social will follow the meeting with Mrs. John McCarthy Jr. and Mrs. Lloyd Villeneuve and their hostess committee in charge. Members of the committee are the Mesdames Ray Pepin, Ed Blau, Matt Decker, John Ryan, Rodger Murray, Arthur Lauzon, Lawrence McRae, Fletcher Fregetto, George Depuydt, Robert Boyle, Clarence Vogel and Robert Gasman.

The crowd coming over for supper? Serve a big hot potato salad with broiled frankfurters, buttered rolls and lots of fresh vegetables to eat out of hand. Choose radishes, carrot and celery strips, cauliflowerettes and strips of fennel for the fresh vegetable tray.

Methodist Circles Meet Wednesday

The Mabel C. Lawrence and Alta Griffin Circles of the First Methodist Church will hold a joint meeting Wednesday, May 18, at 8 p. m. at the home of Mrs. John Arnold, 1200 8th Ave. S.

Co-hostesses of the evening will be Mrs. P. A. Kennedy and Mrs. John Birkenmeier. Devotions will be led by Mrs. Jack Foster and Mrs. Douglas Walker, while Mrs. Robert S. Meyer and Mrs. Harry Wilhelm will be in charge of the program.

This is the age of "easy-does-it." To prove it, Michigan State College home economists counted over 30 different baked goods mixes to tempt Mrs. Consumer. They include mixes for cakes of all kinds, cookies, brownies, pie crust, pie filling, muffins, biscuits, pancakes, waffles, rolls, donuts, candies, icings, and even piazza pie. She will have to decide whether or not to buy these not only by cost, but by time-cost, convenience, the quality of food her family likes and how important the satisfaction of creating her food products is to her.

League Delegates Give Report On State Convention

Delegates to the state convention, held May 5-6 at Saginaw, reported on the adopted state program at the regular meeting of the League of Women Voters in Carnegie Public Library last evening.

Mrs. Russell Johnson, president and Mrs. George Ruwitch, 2nd vice-president, presented the budget, the study item on the state level, the continuing responsibilities, and the platform principles which the convention endorsed. The new study item is Michigan's constitution and the structure of Michigan's state government, in preparation for a Constitutional revision.

Among the new officers noted was Mrs. Chester Cable of Detroit, president for 1955-57. Mrs. Cable attended the local workshop held in Escanaba last September.

At the conclusion of the meeting plans were made to hold a candidates' meeting before the School Board election June 13.

Franklin Teachers Guests Of PTA At Annual Dinner

The Franklin Parent Teacher Association entertained teachers of the Franklin building and John A. Lemmer, superintendent, and George Ruwitch, assistant superintendent of schools at an annual dinner last evening at the Stone House.

The staff includes Miss Marie Jacobsen, Mrs. James Rouman, Miss Jennie Maurina, Miss Louise Jodocy, Mrs. Lora Riley, Mrs. Thaxter Shaw and Paul Vardigan. The executive board, the Mesdames Joseph S. Dickson, Byron Hatch, John Christo, Kenneth Lawson, George Turner, George Coan and John Rich, formed the hostess committee for the evening.

Church Events Christian Science Society

The fact that lasting beauty is gained through spiritual understanding of God's radiance and strength will be stressed at Christian Science services Sunday.

The Lesson-Sermon entitled "Soul and Body" includes the following verse from the Bible (Psalm 96:6): "Honour and majesty are before him: strength and beauty are in his sanctuary."

Immanuel Brotherhood

Immanuel Men's Brotherhood will meet Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. in the church parlors. Dr. Carl B. Olson of Gladstone will be the speaker. A meeting of the Church Council will be held at 7.

Blue Lustre Cited As Answer To Carpet Cleaning Problem

Science is reported as providing the answer to the bothersome problem of keeping wall to wall carpeting bright and clean.

Blue Lustre, a product perfected after long research, is cited as doing the job better than ever done before, because of being the most outstanding product of its kind yet developed.

A concentrate, Blue Lustre mixes with water to produce a foam that brushes into the carpet. There's no soaking, and the pile doesn't sog or mat, and the result is that it dries open and fluffy. The final result is that the carpet gleams like new.

After the carpet has been cleaned from wall to wall, a new stain or traffic lane can be foam-ed away safely, as this Blue Lustre leaves no ring.

The foam is applied with a long-handled brush that is used while the user is in a standing position, just like playing shuffleboard. There is no hands-and-knees work required. Also the original colors spring out like magic, as the foam disappears into the carpet.

Blue Lustre also is gentle and does not harm fine fabric. It cleans Oriental rugs and over-stuffed furniture as efficiently as it cleans carpets.

The product also is inexpensive, as one-half gallon of the concentrate for $2.59 cleans three 9x12 rugs. Blue Lustre is available in quarts, half-gallon and gallon sizes.

John Beukema Speaks Tonight At C-C Meeting

The St. Lawrence Seaway and improvement of the Manistique Harbor will be discussed here tonight at a 7 p. m. banquet in the Elks Temple by John C. Beukema, of Muskegon, a member of the advisory board for the St. Lawrence Seaway development corporation.

Beukema, who also is a member of the Great Lakes Harbor association, arrived here Monday and met last night with members of the Manistique Port commission, visiting Melvindale officials here for the mayor exchange in observance of Michigan Week, and city officials.

His talk tonight is sponsored by the area trade development committee of the Top O' Lake Chamber of Commerce with Fred H. Hahne as chairman. Tickets are being sold for the dinner meeting, and both men and women have been invited.

Harbor Bottom Is Rock
Since the St. Lawrence Seaway project was authorized, Michigan port cities have been urged to improve their harbors to take advantage of the expected increase in lake and foreign shipping. Manistique had a harbor deepening project authorized by Congress in 1950, but no appropriations have been made. Since, additional harbor work also has been requested, and in the past several weeks the Army Corps of Engineers has been re-surveying data on Manistique needs and the harbor here.

The 1950 project authorized deepening of the harbor to a depth of 19 feet in the entrance channel, to a point 300 feet landward of the harbor entrance, and to a depth of 18 feet in the remainder of the channel, to a point 500 feet lake-ward of the existing upper dredging limit. On the additional deepening upstream, a survey of estimates of costs and benefits to be derived must be first made. The bottom of the harbor here is ledge rock.

Lower Coal Rates
Cong. Victor A. Knox recently requested that a survey of work done in the harbor here last year be made to determine conditions as far as draught and silt depositing are concerned. He also has directed a resolution to the House Public Works committee calling for a review of the entire authorization made by Congress in 1950.

The harbor deepening is sought here to enable boats to come in with full cargoes, thereby permitting lower charges on transportation of coal. Contemplated industrial expansion, as well as a possible need for building an electric generating plant in the future are among reasons lower coal transportation rates and deeper draught for harbor vessels is needed.

Mayor Fisher 'Rules' City Here Monday

A new mayor, Benjamin Fisher Jr., of Melvindale, "reigned" over Manistique Monday as he exchanged cities with Mayor A. W. Heitman, of Manistique as a feature of the Michigan Week observance.

Mayor Fisher was accompanied to Manistique Sunday by Councilman William McKittrick, of Melvindale, and together the two toured the city and exchanged information with city officials.

The two were met at the Escanaba airport by Vernon O. Linderoth, mayor pro tem, and Fred H. Hahne, chairman of the Schoolcraft Michigan Week observance. Sunday night a dinner meeting was held with them at the Arrowhead Inn, with members of the city council and other city officials present.

Port Commission Meeting
Monday morning the two were conducted on a tour of the Manistique water works and the city shop, and the city's personnel arrangements, equipment and finances were explained.

The visiting officials were guests of the Manistique Rotary club Monday noon, where they were introduced by Rotarian William F. Hood, city attorney. The city manager also was a guest of the Rotary club.

During the afternoon, Councilman George Stephens and Alvin Nelson escorted the Melvindale officials on a tour of Manistique industries.

A meeting with the Manistique Port commission, created by the City Council last summer, completed their tour of the city Monday noon. Meeting with the commission members was John C. Beukema, of Muskegon, a member of the advisory board for the St. Lawrence Seaway development corporation.

Members of the Port commission are E. E. Cookson, chairman, R. G. Hentschel, John Girvin, George Wood and William Sellman. The informal meeting was held Monday night at the Surf.

First Exchange Here
This is the first year Manistique has participated in the mayor exchange for Michigan Week. Earlier Mayor Heitman, who left Sunday for Melvindale, was scheduled to exchange with Cass City. However, the Cass City mayor was unable to come, and a second pairing of mayors was made for Manistique.

Mayor Fisher and Councilman McKittrick were scheduled to leave today to return to Melvindale, and Mayor Heitman is due to arrive home today.

The mayor exchange program is designed to better acquaint Michigan officials with other communities and make residents of communities more conscious of their governments.

Twilight League Play Will Start Here Thursday
Play in the Twilight League at the Indian Lake Golf and Country club begins Thursday night, Carl L. Carlson, chairman, reports.

May Crowning Scheduled Thursday At St. Francis

The beautiful and traditional ceremony known as the Crowning of the Queen of May will be conducted at St. Francis de Sales church at 7:30 p. m., Thursday. The general public is invited.

A large group of high school girls, attired in formal dress and carrying roses, accompanied by young men of the Manistique CYO, will form a Court of Honor for Miss Mary Ella Giovannini, who was selected from the senior class for the honor of crowning the image of the Blessed Virgin Mary with a wreath of roses.

A new feature of the ceremony this year will be the performance of the Living Rosary by a group of 68 boys and young men, who constitute the parish organization of the Knights of the Altar. These are under the direction of Fr. Edmund Szoka, assistant pastor.

The St. Francis Choristers, a 40-voice group of singers under direction of Sr. M. Eligius, will march into the church with the two groups and sing several Mary songs. For the first time in the Church they will wear their new choir robes, ankle-length tan gowns, fixed with red stoles and head-coverings.

The congregation will join the

Choristers in singing "Tis the Month of Our Mother", "O Mary, We Crown Thee With Blossoms Today," and "On This Day, O Beautiful Mother."

Following the recitation of the Living Rosary, the Queen of the May will be crowned. The sermon will be given by the pastor, the Rev. F. M. Schermer.

Solemn Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament will conclude the evening's ceremony. Assisting the pastor as celebrant will be Rev. Ralph Sterbentz, Engadine, as deacon; and Rev. Edmund Szoka, as subdeacon.

Rotarians Hear Discussion Of Farm Economics

A discussion of price support and farm economics highlighted a meeting of the Manistique Rotary club Monday noon, when Richard L. Hartwig, of Marquette, agricultural economist for Michigan State College was guest speaker.

Hartwig showed a series of slides in which it was explained that farm prices do not remain stable, but farm production does, whereas in manufacturing, prices remain relatively stable and production is more easily controlled and adjusted to market demands.

Surpluses are the big problem in U. S. agriculture, Hartwig noted, adding that he believed a program of free trade with countries, and a gradual shift in which nations produce those products for which they are best suited or equipped, will eventually alleviate the need for price supports.

His talk included explanation of parity and its effect in keeping up the level of production. A drop in the amount of agricultural exports has affected the farm market, the economist observed, but a favorable factor is the population increase, at the rate of 7,000 per day.

The farm population is decreasing, he pointed out, but not fast enough to avoid agricultural surpluses. However, many farm people don't like to move, he observed.

Changes in American eating habits, which have resulted in less consumption of potatoes and cereals, also are among factors which lead to surpluses, he explained.

The policy goals of American agriculture include the promotion of world peace, economic stability and equality of opportunity, Hartwig concluded, but the problem of price supports and agricultural surpluses is "dynamic, no matter how you handle it."

The speaker was introduced by Clayton D. Reid, agricultural agent for Schoolcraft County. William Corson was program chairman.

Mayor Ben Fisher Jr., and Councilman William McKittrick of Melvindale, and Orson Livermore, city manager, were among guests at the meeting in observance of Michigan Week.

State Aid Money Is Received For Schools Monday

Funds totaling $62,248.30 in state aid was received here Monday by County Treasurer Laura A. Williams for distribution to school districts in the county.

The money represents the third apportionment of state aid. Checks have already been mailed to treasurers of the districts.

The amounts each school will receive are as follows:
Manistique, city — $32,652.58; Doyle twp. — $4,642.73; Germfask — $6,108.93; Hiawatha — $3,484.46; Inwood — $5,076.87; Manistique twp. — $5,606.41; Mueller — $2,997.90; Seney — $914.33; Thompson — $764.09.

Gail LaBrasseur Lions Club Talent Honor

The grand prize in the 6th annual Manistique Lions club amateur show here Saturday night was won by Miss Gail LaBrasseur, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred LaBrasseur, 134 N. Houghton Ave.

The brunette junior sang "One Kiss" with Loretta Charron as accompanist to win honors for the most talented contestant. Her award qualifies her to represent Manistique in the amateur show at the Upper Peninsula State Fair in Escanaba this summer.

The 6th annual amateur show here was presented in the High School auditorium Saturday to a near-capacity audience. Talent was outstanding this year, and there was more of it than in previous years, the committee in charge reports. A total of 14 contestants was entered.

Junior Winners
First place in the junior division was won by Sheila Wilson, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wilson, State road, who sang and danced to the popular song "Tweedle Dee." Second place in the junior division, for youngsters 12 and younger, was won by Jeanne McGregor, 4, daughter of

Grain Seeding Soon Finished; Potatoes Next

Grain seeding on Schoolcraft County farms is about a week ahead of last year and is nearly completed, Clayton D. Reid, county agricultural agent reports.

Farmers in the county plant chiefly oats, but also seed some barley. An average of 1800 acres is planted yearly, with about 300 acres harvested for hay and the remainder for grain.

Rain, which came in moderate amounts Monday, is needed by county farmers for the grain seedings, Reid stated. Farmers now are beginning to prepare acreage for potatoes.

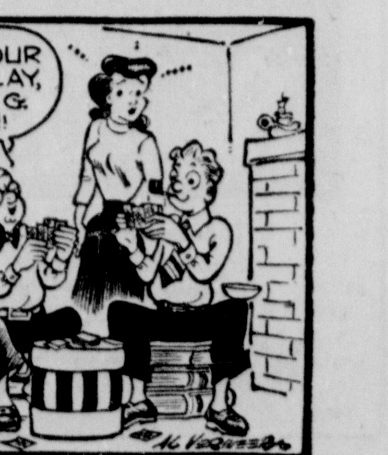

The Amateur show was rated the "best the Lions club has sponsored."

Pomona Grange Is Organized

A Pomona Grange was organized in Schoolcraft county at a recent meeting of the Hiawatha, Germfask and Birthday Granges of Schoolcraft county and the Kates Bay Grange of Garden at Birthday Grange hall.

Rufus Spaulding of the Kates Bay Grange was elected master of the new organization. Other officers elected were Miss Crystelle Reid, of the Birthday Grange, lecturer; and Russell Rugles, of the Hiawatha Grange, secretary.

During the organization meeting, William J. Brake and Arthur L. Berg, master and assistant master of the state Grange, explained the work of Granges in community service and outlined their importance in the rural community.

The next meeting will be held at the Birthday Grange hall June 11. The charter list of members will be completed then.

PTA Will Install Officers Thursday

The monthly meeting of the Lakeside-Central PTA will be held Thursday, May 19, at 8 p. m., at the high school.

A special feature of this meeting will be installation of officers by Mrs. Leroy Wilson. The officers for the coming year are: A. Barton Brown, president; William F. Hood, vice-president; Mrs. Paul Larson, secretary-treasurer.

The program will include a panel discussion "Programs for Our PTA." Members of the panel are: William Hood, moderator, Mrs. John Hanson, Mrs. Leroy Wilson, Mrs. Edwin Anderson, and A. B. Brown.

The men of the PTA are in charge of the "snack 'n java" hour.

Pump Installation Is Completed Here

A new high lift pump installed in the Manistique water station was tested Monday and the pump now is ready for use, Orson Livermore, city manager reports.

Installation was begun last week, under supervision of Lee Townsend, Francis Engineering Company engineer who returned to Saginaw Monday.

A few control parts and fastening of a number of pipes has yet to be completed, but all major work on the pump installation has been finished, Livermore said.

Bernard Newhouse, Nahma's outstanding track athlete, may get into the record-breaking act in the Upper Peninsula finals here Saturday. He ran a sparkling 180 yard low hurdles race in 21.9 seconds to win the event in the regional meet at Menominee last Saturday. Newhouse needed that fast time to beat Rapid River's star hurdlers. In the qualifying races in the morning, Wayne Christoff won the first heat in 22.1, and Gordon Linn copped the second heat in 22 flat. All three times were well below the Upper Peninsula Class D-E record of 22.4 set by Harold Kallio of Eben in 1950.

Tom Fisher came out on top when he met ex-Eskymo team mate Dick Peterson in the Northern-Michigan Tech tennis match last Friday. Fisher won 7-5, 5-7 and 6-1 for the only Northern win in the match. Peterson and a team mate got together to beat Fisher and a Northern mate 6-4, 7-5 in a doubles event.

Dale Mankske, Escanaba Eskymo pole vaulter, couldn't find the right formula in the regional meet at Menominee Saturday. Mankske, who has gone 10-6 in practice and 10-4 in previous meets this season, was unable to clear 9-3 to qualify at Menominee. But when the vaulting event was finished and none of the contestants could clear 10-3, Mankske picked up the pole and vaulted it easily.

With five standout golfers on his squad this season, Eskymo coach Magnusen could have a problem selecting the four to compete in the Upper Peninsula Class B finals tournament here Friday. But he has the solution to it. He has kept totals of individuals in regular season competition and will use the accumulated scores as a basis for determining the entries.

A change in the national Little League baseball rules is due in 1957. At that time no boy under 12 will be permitted to compete in national tournament competition. The rule change is being made to lighten what little emotional impact a boy younger than 12 might experience in the heat of major tournament competition.

Crusaders Nip Eagles 6-5 In Extra-Inning Ball Game

The Holy Name Crusaders squeezed a run home in the bottom of the 10th inning here yesterday to nip the Stephenson Eagles 6-5 and will travel to Gladstone to meet the Braves this afternoon.

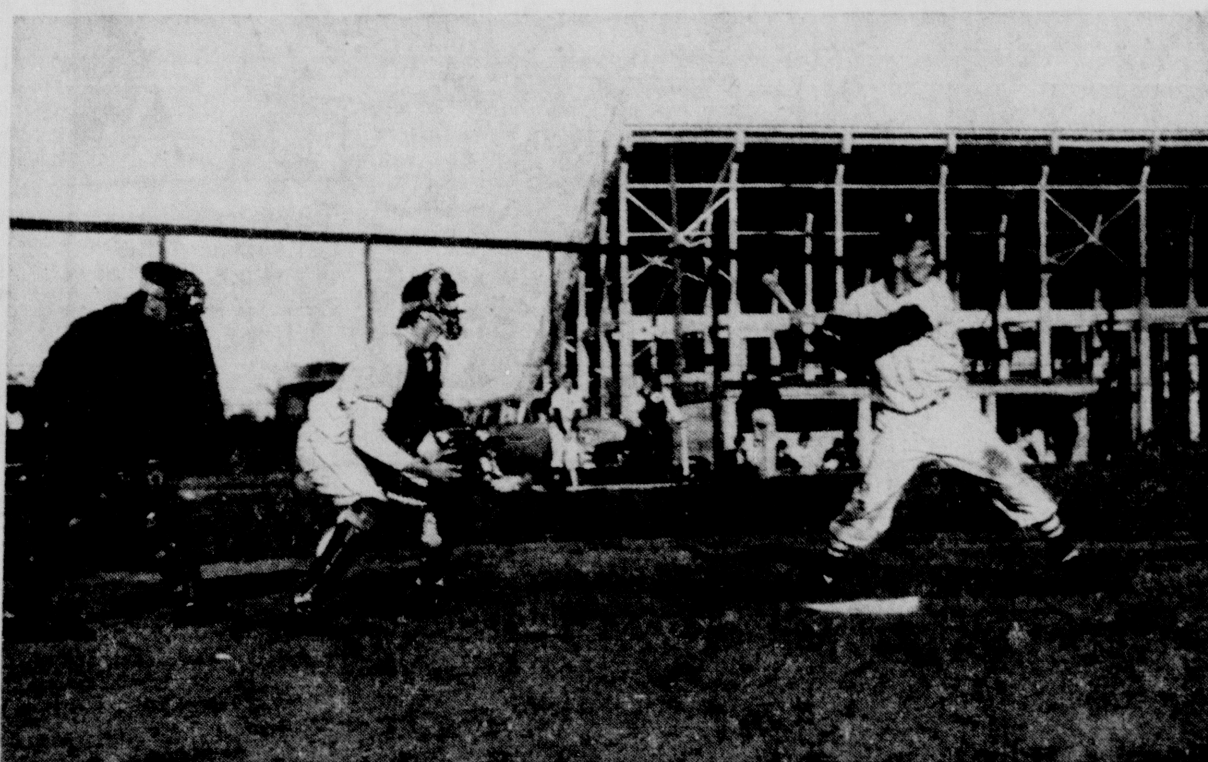

Coach Tom St. Germain's Crusaders won the marathon in the 10th when Jim Greenwood scored from third with the bases loaded. Denis McGinn was at the plate and on an attempted squeeze bunt the Stephenson catcher interfered with the batter to allow the runner to come home.

The game was marked by heavy hitting in the early innings and tight pitching in the later stages. After Holy Name put a run across in the first inning, Stephenson's catcher Bischel slugged a homer with a mate on base to give the Eagles a 2-1 lead.

Stephenson made it 4-1 in the top of the third as third baseman Jim Strohl socked a homer off Holy Name starter Don Trotter. John Berrigan came in to retire the side.

Juettens Hits Homer

Joe Juettens provided Holy Name's fireworks in the third inning as he slammed a three-run homer over the right centerfield fence. The Crusaders took a 5-4 lead but Stephenson scored a singleton in the fourth to tie it up.

Berrigan settled down to allow Stephenson only one hit in the last six innings. He fanned eight and didn't issue a base on balls. Stephenson starter Mike Dolack tossed seven innings in which he allowed six hits, fanned five and walked five. He was relieved by Mike Aman.

Fifth Victory

Greenwood opened the 10th inning by drawing a walk off Aman and the Holy Name ace stole second base. Catcher Jim Brown rapped a single after Juettens had been hit by a pitched ball. The squeeze play followed with the bases loaded.

The victory was the fifth against two defeats for Holy Name and avenged a 4-3 loss at Stephenson earlier in the season.

SPORTS IN BRIEF

GLASGOW, Scotland (P)—Two Michigan boxers with an American Golden Gloves team defeated Scottish opponents in bouts Monday night.

Eddie Jenkins, Detroit and John Gehan, Grand Rapids, turned in victories as the American defeated a squad representing the Scottish Amateur Boxing Assn. 6-4.

The victory was the fifth straight for Coach Zig Sheki's Tigers. Pouppore set the Hermansville Redskins down without a hit, fanning 12, walking five and hitting two batters. His lack of control in the fifth inning caused trouble as he walked two and hit two, while an error in the outfield and a fielder's choice allowed Hermansville to score three runs.

Powers opened scoring in the third inning and Pouppore gave himself a big assist by cracking a homer with one on. The Tigers scored four runs in that inning, added two in the fourth and two more in the fifth. Jule Hansen, Bill Berg and Bernard O'Neil collected doubles for the new league champions.

Ken Schultz went the distance for Hermansville, allowing eight hits, fanning seven and walking one.

Esky Athletic Dinner Will Be Held May 25

An Escanaba High School athletic recognition dinner sponsored by the newly organized Eskymo Fan Club will be held Wednesday, May 25, starting at 6:30 at the Senior High School gymnasium.

Plans for the dinner were announced today by Lawrence Erickson, president.

Athletes, coaches and cheerleaders will be honored at the dinner which will be put on by women members of the Club, which was organized several weeks ago to lend support to the athletic program at the high school.

The recognition dinner will be the first official project of the organization. A sale of Eskymo stickers is being conducted to help finance the dinner. The E stickers may be purchased from Mrs. Elmer Krause, secretary, or any other member of the club, or at Gust Aspi's. Any adult who has purchased an E sticker is entitled to attend, but reservations must be made by Friday, May 20, by phoning 833. Reservations are necessary so that it will be possible to determine in advance the number of people who will attend.

Karl Dickson will be in charge of the program to be arranged for the dinner. Several speakers will be at hand and entertainment will also be provided.

The dinner is expected to draw some 150 football, basketball, baseball, track, tennis and golf athletes in addition to cheerleaders. All athletes in the Senior High program are included.

PHILADELPHIA (P)—The Pennsylvania Athletic Commission charged Monday that Harold Johnson, No. 1 light heavyweight contender, match maker Pete Moran and three of Johnson's handlers covered up a "fake" boxing match.

The commission alleged that Johnson, Moran, trainers Clarence (Skinny) Davidson and Joe Rowland, and Lou Gross, a second, knew that Johnson wasn't well enough to fight Julio Mederos May 6, but let the match go on without notifying the proper authorities.

The fighter claims he ate part of an orange in his dressing room before the fight. He said it tasted "bitter." Drs. Ayella and Strickland said the drug could have been injected into the orange with a syringe and needle.

Doctors Testify

The commission also indicted Moran for allegedly owning a piece of Johnson, a violation of state regulations which forbid a matchmaker to have a financial interest in a boxer. Moran is matchmaker for Herman Taylor who promoted the Mederos-Johnson fight.

Dr. Alfred Ayella and Dr. Wilbur Strickland testified Monday that Johnson was drugged by a barbiturate.

The hearing will resume Wednesday.

Resumes Tomorrow

Both doctors testified that Johnson was in excellent condition the day of the fight. Dr. Strickland, who examined Johnson approximately 10 minutes before fight time, said the fighter's blood pressure and heart action were perfect.

Dr. Strickland said that when he examined Johnson in the dressing room after the ill fated fight the fighter's eyes were 40 per cent dilated but responded to light, indicating that only partial control of the body existed.

The hearing will resume Wednesday.

Manistique Cardinals Play Booster Sunday

MANISTIQUE — The Manistique Cardinals, with Manager Fred Ilesca at the helm, will open their 1955 Bay de Noc season Sunday with a booster game against their arch rival — Garden. The game is scheduled at 2 p. m., at Cardinal Field here.

Manager Ilesca this year is confronted with the task of rebuilding last year's play-off champions without the capable pitching of the Cards ace, Don Carlson. Carlson will not be active this season.

Only four of last year's stalwarts are back in uniform this year. They are Jim Cowman, Marvin Frederickson, Rudie Brandstrom and Lesica. These will form the nucleus of the new team.

New faces this year will include Lawrence Seymour, who has seen much baseball action while in military service, and Herb Calhoun, Robert Watson, Fred Bender, Chalmers LaFreniere, Fred Watson, Ken Dixon, Don Anderson, Micky Lee, Leland MacGregor, P. Gould and M. Freeland.

The lineup for the opening game has not been set, as several players are expected to be added to the roster, and some positions are still "wide open," Lesica states. Jim Cowman, Robert Watson and Fred Watson will handle the pitching, with Robert Watson and Cowman alternating as catcher.

A large number of Garden fans are expected Sunday for the opening tilt. A much stronger Garden team is anticipated, inasmuch as Garden and Fayette now have combined to form one team. Fayette is being replaced in the 8-team Bay de Noc League by a strong team sparked by Perkins, Rock and Brampton men playing under the Perkins banner.

A Olson victory over Moore probably would give Baker a championship match because Bobo, an overgrown 160-pounder, hardly figures as a heavyweight at the moment.

Baker Or Moore Next In Line

SAN FRANCISCO (P)—Bob Baker, the jumbo-sized heavyweight from Pittsburgh, or light-heavy champ Archie Moore have the inside track for a September shot at Rocky Marciano's title.

British promoter Jack Solomons hopes to convince Marciano's manager, Al Weill, that a return bout with Don Cockell in London would result in a $1,000,000 gate. It will take a load of convincing to get Weill across the pond.

"I won't make any commitments for a couple of weeks," said Weill Monday night. "Archie Moore would be a possibility, provided he beats Bobo Olson, June 22. And then there's Baker."

An Olson victory over Moore probably would give Baker a championship match because Bobo, an overgrown 160-pounder, hardly figures as a heavyweight at the moment.

Virgil Trucks Sued For $24,300 Upkeep In Paternity Case

CHICAGO (P)—A paternity suit filed in U. S. District Court by a Louisville, Ky., woman names Virgil Trucks, White Sox pitcher, as the father of her 7-year-old son.

The suit, filed Monday by Lillian Dobbis Priddy seeks to compel Trucks to pay her $24,300 for support of the boy, Michael Hale Trucks.

Trucks, in New York with the White Sox team, declined to comment on the suit.

Cards Topple Pirates For Third Win In Row

Manager Al Lopez tags the New York Yankees as the team his Cleveland Indians have to whip for another American League flag, but the guys who want to rattle for first place right now are the Chicago White Sox.

The Sox pulled into Yankee Stadium tonight for a two-game set that wraps up their first Eastern tour of the season.

The White Sox are a length behind Cleveland and 1½ ahead of the third-place Yankees, and have a three-game winning streak.

Dodgers Way Ahead
The St. Louis Cardinals, who beat Pittsburgh 6-0 Monday night in the only major league game scheduled, also have a three-victory streak.

Cleveland is at Boston in an afternoon game today, with Detroit at Baltimore and Kansas City at Washington in night contests.

In the National, Brooklyn's Dodgers, while losing three games in seven and getting knocked off an 11-game winning streak, still

Tri County League Will Open Sunday; Bark River At Home

Opening game in the Tri County Baseball League will be played at three sites Sunday, May 22.

The seven team circuit gets under way with Hardwood at Powers, Hermansville at Bark River and Daggett at Bark River. Perronville, seventh team in the loop, is idle opening day.

Because of the seven-team setup, one club will not be in action each Sunday.

The Clairmont Transfer team stretched its unbeaten string to three games in the American League softball race last night with a neat 2-0 victory over the Dells.

Clairmonts moved into undisputed possession of first place with the win. They will clash this evening at 7 with Paper Mill. The Millers have one win and no losses. Harnischfeger has two wins and no defeats, and meets the Eagles in the nightcap.

Bill Courneene scattered five hits, fanned six and walked four of notch the win for Clairmonts. Howie Larsson, first man up for Clairmonts in the first inning, drew a walk off Carl Johnson. He scored from third on a wild throw for the first run of the game.

Clairmonts made it 2-0 in the fifth when Bud Laviolette singled, moved to second on a bunt by Dick Cass and came home on a single by Courneene.

The Dells threatened with men on base in six of the seven innings but couldn't score as Courneene was tough in the clinches and got good defensive support. Bill Courne made several sharp defensive plays for the winners.

In the opening game last night the Merchants notched a 6-2 victory over Rapid River behind two-hit pitching by Buddy Provo. Provo fanned three and walked six.

The Merchants collected six hits off Lefty Lake, with Bobby Anderson slugging his second homer of the season with one on in the first inning.

Top O'Lake notched a 13-3 win over Paper Mill in the second game of the doubleheader. Kasun gave up only four hits in posting the win. Rubick and Reque both hit triples for the winners.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

(By The Associated Press)
San Francisco — World heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano, 189, Brockton, Mass., stopped Don Cockell, 205, England, 9 (title bout).
New York — Paddy DeMarco, 140, Brooklyn, outpointed Libby Manzo, 138, New York, 10.
Brooklyn — Hardy (Bazooka) Smallwood, 155½, Brooklyn, outpointed Bob Provizzi, 160, Free-laid, Pa., 10.
Quebec — Fernando Gagnon, 119½, Quebec City, stopped Jerry Kortwright, 124½, New York, 6.
Carmarthen, Wales — Dai Dower, 118, England, outpointed Jean Kidy, 119, Belgium, 10.

Kaline will be presented a gold watch and other gifts as the Holy Name Society honors him as "Baltimore's Young Man of the Year."

The 20-year-old outfield phenomenon, who was graduated from Southern High School here in 1953, is currently hitting .379 for the Tigers—the third best mark in the American League.

On hand for the festivities will be his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Kaline; his bride of seven months, the former Louise Hamilton of this city; and John H.

Schwatka, principal of Southern High.

The high school band is also scheduled to perform. The Holy Name Society's second annual "family night," with the added drawing power of Kaline's name, is expected to draw more than 25,000 fans

Marciano Retains Crown By Stopping Cockell In Ninth

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—It took a lot of chopping to cut down Don Cockell, the sturdy oak of England, but whack him down he did, and today America's Rocky Marciano remains the boss of the world heavyweight fighters.

Fifty-four seconds after the ninth round began, the power-punching Marciano disposed of the gallant but battered and beaten challenger.

Referee Frankie Brown stopped the scheduled 15-round, awarding Marciano a technical knockout. It was the Rock's fifth victory in defense of his championship.

Goes Through Ropes
The end was sighted in the sixth and drew nearer when the game Britisher was sent through the ropes head first at the bell ending the eighth. The climax came when Cockell was smashed to the canvas twice almost as soon as the ninth round began.

It took eight counts for the hog farmer from Horam to lift himself up from the seat of his trunks in this bloody ninth, and back down he went. He managed to gain his feet after five and was even trying to punch back.

Then the referee called it quits. Cockell, weighing 205 pounds to Marciano's 189, was bleeding from the nose and a cut on the forehead at the hairline. His left eyebrow had a tiny slit.

Rocky Unmarked
Marciano was unblemished. Even his vulnerable nose, sliced open by Ezzard Charles last September, was intact.

The crowd of 18,000 in the big football stadium, cold as it was, gave Don a tremendous ovation as he left the ring.

Just before the bell ending the sixth, a right to the jaw sent Cockell walking unsteadily to his hands.

Don's manager John Simpson admitted later that the referee came over and asked if the fight should go on, and that he himself suggested to Don that he give up. Cockell refused, and made it plain he did not want his manager to stop the fight under any circumstances.

Claims Raw Deal
It came as a surprise later, particularly to the American writers who had admired Cockell's fine stand, to hear him say he thought he got a "raw deal."

Sitting glumly in his dressing room, he let it go only as "raw deal," leaving up to Simpson to elaborate.

Simpson, wise in managerial post-mortems, and doubtless hoping for a rematch, charged that Referee Brown let Rocky get away with butting, and low blows and punching after the bell.

Rocky did land several blows on the borderline. In a flurry he threw the last punch after the gong once or twice. And the two banged heads a time or two.

Cockell said he would like a return match anywhere, including San Francisco.

Gives Him Credit
Marciano, in his dressing room, gave Don credit.

"He's got a lot of guts," Rocky said. "He took it, he took everything I had and he kept standing up."

"He's an underrated fighter. I don't think I hit anyone else any more often or harder. Maybe Ez Charles the first time, but I don't think so."

Cockell plans to head for home Thursday. Marciano's immediate plans are indefinite, except to rest and probably get ready for another title fight in September.

Talbot Sees White Sox As Most Improved In League

By GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK (AP)—The time has come to take a good second look at the Chicago White Sox. We seem to see the most improved club in either league.

Despite a prolonged slump by their best hitter, Minnie Minoso, the Sox are clinging tightly to Cleveland's front runners—they're all even with the Indians in the vital "lost" column—and are showing no signs of flagging under the pace. When Minoso begins to hit, as he will, and such pitchers as Virgil Trucks and Billy Pierce strike their true stride, you might see something, indeed.

Nieman Big Surprise

There's little doubt that Frank Lane made the most telling trade of the winter when he obtained first-baseman Walt Dropo and outfielder Bob Nieman from Detroit in exchange for Ferris Fain and little else. Nieman has proved the big surprise by grabbing a regular spot in the lineup and whaling the ball as never before in his big league career.

With the Tigers last year Nieman hit only 263 and drove in but 35 runs. He is slugging at a .316 clip (six home runs) today and is among the league's RBI leaders with 24. Huge Dropo, though hovering around .250, has five homers, one more than his entire '54 output, and has driven in 14 runs.

Another surprise has been catcher Sherman Lollar as a power hitter. Last year, while the Sox were finishing a falling-down third for lack of the long ball, Lollar hit 24, with seven home runs. He's already stroked that number, with the season only about a sixth gone.

His average is a hot .305 and he has knocked in 16 runs.

Kell OK Again
George Kell, his legs apparently sound again, is playing the bang-up third base. Nellie Fox, the club's little second-baseman, again is proving himself a steady .300 clubber.

While these players were carrying the attack, Minoso, Jim Rivera and Chico Carrasquel, have been hovering around the .250 mark. Minoso, the club's outstanding star for the past four years, has poled only one homer and one triple thus far. He hit 19 homers and 18 triples last season.

Minoso is bound to bust loose, and when he does the White Sox figure to be very rough. Rivera should climb to somewhere near his .286 average of last year.

In Dick Donovan, the large right-hander who has just pitched his

Dupas Will Fight Undefeated Ryff

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Stylish Ralph Dupas pits his speed punching against unbeaten Frankie Ryff tonight before the biggest paid crowd in New Orleans boxing history.

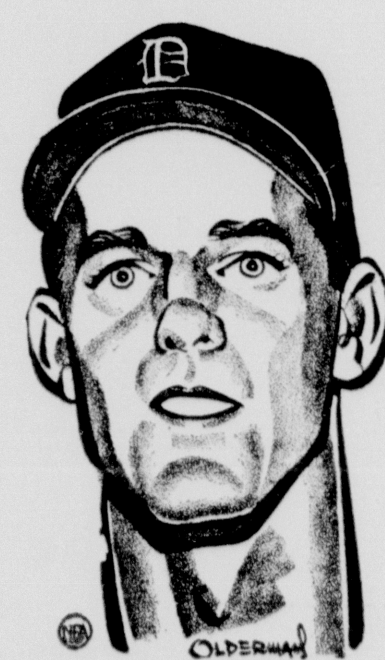

Dupas, 19-year-old No. 1 contender for Jimmy Carter's lightweight crown, dropped an eight-round decision to Ryff last September for one of the six setbacks on his glossy 64-fight record.

The 23-year-old Ryff will be making his 18th professional start.

The gate is expected to reach $45,000 with about 9,500 fans sitting in on the 10-round match. The bout will not be televised or broadcast.

Sports Roundup

Francie Frankie Lane and the Chicago White Sox would have Al Kaline cruising their outfield today . . . if farm boss Johnny Rignew hadn't nixed a Baltimore area scouting job in April, 1952, for a young applicant named Murray Wieman . . . who hooked on with Detroit and in two months had the American League phenomenon in tow. . .

Al Kaline

Wieman had an edge on the 15 other pursuing major league scouts . . . He knew Mama Kaline best ("I have a way with mothers") . . . and as a local sports writer, fattened the family scrap book with Albert's feats . . .

"Salty" (you know, "al-kaline") was something to write home about—the only schoolboy in Baltimore history to make the all-scholastic team four straight years . . . the first time up as a high schooler he hit a homer and won the game . . . It took Uncle Sam's Navy to make an outfielder of him—he was moved from shortstop that freshman year when the regular center fielder quit school for bell-bottom trousers . . .

The tearing Tigers almost missed him, too, because farm director Johnny McHale sent word to his eastern scouts to tell Kaline there'd be no enticing dough for signing . . . The Tigers had room for only one bonus baby and had sights set on Tom Quatters of McKeesport, Pa. . . but the Phillies grabbed Quatters first—he pitched in one game in two years. . .

Kaline didn't get anything like the $35,000 reported, but enough to pay off the mortgage on pap Nick's homestead. . . While young Al sweeps the bases for the Tigers, the elder Kaline makes brooms in a Baltimore factory . . . He hasn't had a paid vacation in 15 years, but this last spring took a week off to watch Al at Lakeland, Fla. . .

Salty, or Killer, is a quiet 20-year-old with perfect habits and key calm . . . He doesn't smoke, he says, "because I never get so nervous that I have to" . . . There's a big tug of war among the Giants nabobs, with the Leo Durocher faction yelping for the recall of first sacker Gail Harris from Minneapolis, so Whitey Lockman can be shifted to the outfield . . . Our Spalding agent reports more than 5 million baseballs have gone the way of all stitches since Abner Doubleday didn't invent the game . . . The Phils don't turn on the lamp bulbs at Shibe Park until 7 before a night game because the tariff would jump $1600 . . .

One of the doctors who thumbed down Archie Moore's heart claims the light-heavy champ couldn't pass a routine life insurance exam . . .

You had to expect it from flickerland—Bill Sweeney, the Los Angeles manager, imparts his signals for stealing, bunting, etc., to the TV people so they can anticipate the play . . . so how much does the director fine the cameraman for missing a signal? Elder statesmen Tommy Byrne and Jim Konstanty do the fungo hitting for the Yankees Jackie Burke's about ready to quit the tournament golf trail, and he's one of the younger ones . . .

Dave Smith, the 6-5, 250-pound Gastonia gunner who'll play in the British Amateur, has been slamming the smaller English pellet for six months and drove a 395-yard green on his home course . . .

Notre Dame has the pele position on Army in a hot race for the services of a kid quarterback from Ansonia, Conn. . . which has already contributed Bob Kvascky to the West Point backfield . . . with another touted yearling fullback coming up . . .

Between you'n'me, shouldn't a hurler whose behavior has been of concern to his club inform his bosses he's recently been converted to happy domesticity? . . .

third shutout, the Sox appear to have come up with the find of the season. Donovan has yielded just four earned runs in 38 innings.

Among them, Donovan, Sandy Consuegra and Mike Fornieles have won 10 games while losing only two.

Trucks, Bob Keegan and Jack Harshman, who combined to score 49 triumphs last year, have up to now contributed only four victories to the cause while losing six.

In short, the Sox have been winning and have not yet realized their potential. They might make a big move at any time.

Braves' Mound Staff Sagging In Middle

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The "best" pitching staff in the National League is sagging in the middle and at both ends.

Many who looked over the Milwaukee Braves early this spring, figured they had the top collection of moundmen and would be the best bet to take the flag.

The word was then that Warren Spahn and Gene Conley would be 20-game winners, Lew Burdette would be improved and Bob Buhl and Chet Nichols would pick up Milwaukee's fine relief staff of 1954.

—Dave Jolly in particular—also figured in the rosy conjecture.

Few Finishers

But with the season one fifth completed it isn't working out quite that smoothly. In 30 games the starting Milwaukee hurler has finished just nine times—and Conley has four of those completed games.

Jolly, top Braves reliever last year with an 11-6 record and an average of 2.43 earned runs per game, is 1-2 to date and his earned run average is way up to 5.50. Braves relievers have worked 72 1-3 innings so far and have been hit for 39 earned runs, giving the Milwaukee corps of firemen a combined earned run average of 4.85, which borders on generosity.

Conley Is 4-1

K. C. Pitchers Most Generous

NEW YORK (AP)—A change in scenery has had little effect on the generosity of Kansas City Athletics pitchers in serving up home run pitches to American League batters.

The Kansas City mound staff has allowed 49 homers in 29 games, most in the AL, according to figures compiled by The Associated Press. Last season, when their franchise was in Philadelphia, the A's hurlers also topped the league in gopher ball pitches with 141.

In the National League the Philadelphia, Phils' moundsmen have been tagged for the most home runs, 40 in 29 games. The St. Louis Cards led the league in homers allowed in 1954 with 170.

The Chicago White Sox, Washington Senators and Detroit Tigers have yielded the least four baggers in the American League, 17 each, while Pittsburgh Pitchers have been the most stringy in the National with 22.

Tom Brewer of the Boston Red Sox, who has lost six games without a victory, can lay most of his troubles to the nine homers he's given up in 40 innings.

The figure is tops in the league. As a rookie last season Brewer showed "grooving" tendencies by giving up 15 home runs.

Herm Wehmeier of the Phils and Milwaukee's Gene Conley are the gopher ball leaders in the National League with nine apiece.

Danish Distance Ace Can't Compete Here
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Danish distance star Gunnar Nielsen won't be in the running Friday with Wes Santee.

The International Amateur Athletic Federation refused to grant Nielsen a permit to make the trip from Copenhagen for the Coliseum Relays' mile run.

Nielsen, who has hit 4-02.7, and Santee, with 4-00.6, were expected to star in the highlight of the evening.

Larry Houston, district AAU representative, said Nielsen was denied the permit because he has already competed 38 days out of his native country. Under IAAF rules, an athlete can only compete 28 days each year. Nielsen obtained a 10-day extension on his original permit.

Ferndale Mayor Here On Monday

Bruce D. Garbutt, Ferndale, Mich., served the City of Gladstone as mayor yesterday in an exchange of mayors which saw Mayor Gordon Kelley at Ferndale for the day.

Mayor Garbutt, who is president of the Michigan Municipal League and is associated with the Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation, Pittsburgh, at their Detroit office, arrived Monday morning with Mrs. Garbutt.

Mayor Garbutt met various city officials before noon and with City Manager H. J. Henriksen attended the Rotary luncheon at noon at which he spoke briefly giving Rotarians a word picture of what his home community is like.

After the luncheon, in company with Wilbur Montgomery, City Manager Henriksen and Commissioner Rex Stowe he inspected the new light plant under construction here and then made tours of several local industries.

At the luncheon he was presented with a Marble Arms hatchet by Ed Sanderson of the Marble Arms, who was program chairman for the day. The hatchet was appropriately inscribed.
